Truckers Sue for Refund Of Tolls

Seek $168,444 Paid To Madison for Use of Chain of Rocks Bridge

The city of Madison is being sued by 13 trucking companies seeking to recover $168,444 in tolls they claim were illegally collected by the city for use of the old Chain of Rocks bridge.

Twelve of the firms filed motions in the St. Louis circuit court to intervene as plaintiffs in a suit brought against the city 1½ years ago by the state of Missouri which alleges that tolls were being collected illegally. The span became toll free on Aug. 1, 1966.

The 13th hauler, Commercial Transport, Inc., an Illinois corporation, filed suit in the magistrate's division of circuit court at Edwardsville for $3164 it is asking that interest be added.

Missouri is asking for an accounting of funds from the city of Madison and contends that the city should pay $7 million to the St. Louis circuit court registry for distribution to those entitled for a return of tolls. The U.S. Corps of Engineers estimated that Madison netted a profit of about $7 million while it operated the bridge on a toll basis since 1939.

"Rendered Full Value"
Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison said it is the view of the city that it rendered full value for the tolls in providing the bridge traffic route, and that the city did not force anyone to use the bridge.

He said all of the firm which are suing had charge accounts with the bridge.
Mayor Maeras claims that jurisdiction over the dispute lies with federal courts and not Missouri courts, and that the city complied with all requirements of federal agencies or the Army Corps of Engineers.
Amounts sought by the truck lines include:
Arkansas-Best Freight System Inc., $26,510 from 1962 to 1966;
Complete Auto Transit Inc., $11,530 from 1959 to 1966;
Walsh Freight Co., $33,078 from 1954 to 1966;
Motor Freight Corp., $1590 from 1965 to 1966;
Bridges Line Inc., $610 for 1966;
Be-Mac Transport Co. Inc., $49,720 from 1952 to 1966;
Western Trucking Co., $4310 from 1957 to 1966;
Bushe Lines Inc., $2394 from 1959 to 1966;
Shippers Dispatch Inc., $3401 from 1964 to 1966;
Bryant Motor Freight Inc., $1326 from 1960 to 1966;
Gateway Transportation Co. Inc., $16,540 from 1965 to 1966;
1966; and Associated Transports Inc., $14,632 from 1956 to 1966.

Auto Strikes Switch
A head-on driver headed south on Madison avenue skidded across the pavement and knocked today a pedestrian striding to the traffic lights at 27th street at 3 a.m. today. The vehicle then left the scene. Apparently no one was injured, police said.

Wallace Found Not Guilty of Murder In Thweatt Case

Shelby Wallace, 29, of Granite City, was found innocent of a murder charge in a verdict returned by a criminal jury at about 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Wallace had been charged with the fatal shooting of Terry Thweatt Jr., 17, of Granite City, outside of the Full Moon tavern on Route 111 last Oct. 1.

The case went to the jury at about 4:30 p.m. after the defense called two final witnesses, including Bud Adams, operator of the tavern. Wallace did not testify.

Previous testimony showed that Wallace had been at the fracas with a brother earlier at the tavern, but there was no apparent direct testimony placing him in the auto from which the shots were fired as the car passed the tavern. Young Thweatt was hit by one of the slugs, which the county contends was a .45 caliber. A pathologist testified that Thweatt was shot in the face with a smaller caliber bullet, possibly a .32 slug.

Wallace was being held in custody, however, to face sentencing of an old charge of possession of a hypodermic needle and other narcotic devices and is to appear for sentencing at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

He had been convicted of the charge previously but failed to appear for sentencing. The charge stemmed from an arrest by Granite City police. He had appeared before Magistrate Johnson in Edwardsville after he was arrested on the murder charge in October, but a continuance was granted then pending disposition of the murder charge.

February Draft Quota Is 11 Men; 18 Leave Friday

With 18 local young men being drafted tomorrow, the county selective service office was advised this week that the quota for February will be 11 men and there will be no call for pre-induction physical examinations.

Next month, 11 men are to be drafted Feb. 16.

Tomorrow, the group of 18 draftees is to report to the county office at Edwardsville, 121 West Kansas street, at 6:30 a.m., and 78 other local men are to report for pre-induction physical examinations.

The new February quotas for other areas of the county include: Quincy, 11; Alton, 12; to be drafted Feb. 2 and 12 from the Edwardsville area on Feb. 16.

Fire Call to Nestle's

Firemen were called at 11:30 a.m. today to the Nestle Co. plant, 2101 Adams street, when smoke was observed coming from beneath an oil fuel tank.

A plant spokesman said there was no damage and that firemen were called as a precautionary measure until the tank could be checked.

Thos. Land, 36, GC Welder, Hit By Air Duct, Dies

THOMAS G. LAND Killed at Work

Thomas G. Land, 36, of 2827 Cayuga street suffered fatal injuries at 1 p.m. Monday after a 1000-pound steel air duct fell on him while he was at work at a sheet iron shop in St. Louis.

He died at 2:30 p.m. at De Paul Hospital, St. Louis.

He was employed as a welder for Combustion Engineering, Inc., St. Louis, for the past 15 years. Plant safety supervisor Harold Kram said the duct fell after it was lifted into place by a crane and the grapple hooks were unfastened.

Other workers ran as they saw it falling, but Mr. Land tripped over a steel I-beam, Kram said.

Born in Portia, Ark., he lived in Granite City 6½ years and formerly resided in St. Louis. He was a member of the Pentecostal Church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Land; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Land of St. Louis; three step-daughters, Mrs. Wayne (Neva) Lassiter of Collinsville, Mrs. Floyd (Nancy) Winstead, Leachville, Ark., and Miss June Cravens of Granite City; a brother, Jerry Land of (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Juvenile Detention Home Approved

Contracts of $409,867 Let; Quota to Repair, Add to Jail Building

The Madison county board of supervisors awarded contracts totaling $409,867 for construction of the Madison county juvenile detention home during a regular meeting Wednesday morning at Edwardsville.

The general contract was awarded to L. Korinek & Son of Collinsville for $243,493, the electrical contract to Guarantee Electric Co. of St. Louis for $47,779, and plumbing, drainage, heating and ventilation to General Refrigeration & Plumbing Co. of East Alton for $118,565. All were low bids.

The building, to be constructed on a 3.8-acre tract on the county tuberculosis sanitarium grounds south of Edwardsville, is to be completed in 300 calendar days. The county owns the land.

For William B. Webb Jr., assistant Granite City township supervisor and chairman of the detention home committee, the end was of a long, uphill struggle. He began working on plans and promoting the home nearly 12 years ago.

Opposition Voiced
There was some opposition, chiefly from George Roberts, Alton township supervisor, who earlier was critical of the cost involved in constructing and maintaining the home, which he said would be "a high class playground for delinquent children."

Webb calmly noted that the detention home committee, the county board and the people of (Continued on Page 5, Col. 4)

20 Days Now to Protest Tax Assessment Hikes

Legal notices which specify that property owners in Granite City and Nameoki township now have 20 days in which to file objections to the percentage boosts in real estate assessments appear on page 45 of today's issue.

Objections are to be filed with the county board of review office in the courthouse at Edwardsville. Assessments on all lots and homes in Granite City township are increased by 10% over the valuations established by the county last month, and in Nameoki township, the area's involved in the 25% assessment increase are listed in the legal notice on page 42.

A flood of tax assessment objections is expected in the 20-day period at the review board office, since the percentage increases will jump the overall $74,000,000 assessment for Granite City property owners by $7,400,000. In Nameoki township, the 25% assessment boost will add about $3,000,000 to the township valuation.

The county board of review members, Harold Landolt, John Hunsler and Frank Rissi, ordered assessment increases in nine of the county's 24 townships to prevent action by the state department of revenue for a 1.639 multiplier in the entire county for equalization purposes.

Nameoki Board Concerned
Questions relating to assessment hikes in nine Madison county townships took up most of the Nameoki township board meeting Tuesday evening. The semi-monthly session was held at the township general assistance office on Highway 160.

The publication in today's Press-Record of the 68 subdivisions in which property assessments will be revised, answers many of the inquiries discussed by (Continued on Page 15, Col. 2)

Levee District Grants GC Plea To Use Channel

Nameoki Drainage Needed To Take Drainage from Proposed New Sewers

The East Side Levee and Sanitary district board has reversed its earlier stand and will give Granite City permission to discharge stormwater drainage from its proposed new sewer system into the Nameoki drainage ditch, it was announced today.

Decision to go along with the city request was announced by Lawrence Tolar, levee board president, in a meeting of levee board officials with Mayor Donald Partney in the mayor's office at 10 a.m. today.

Tolar said the levee trustees acted on the recommendation of William E. Ebersold, chairman of the levee board's sewer committee. Ebersold is one of the two Madison county members of the levee board of trustees.

Tolar said official approval of the request will be voted by the levee board in a special meeting Feb. 1.

A joint statement of agreement on the problem was issued during the meeting.

Attending Meeting
Attending the meeting this morning in addition to Mayor Partney and Tolar were levee board members Morris Campbell of East St. Louis and Joseph Grant of Granite City; Ben Campbell, chief clerk of the levee board; Adair Kramer, chief engineer of the levee district; Richard Allen, Granite City attorney; Ernest Brown, chairman of the levee district operations in Madison county; E. E. Bloss of the Horner & Shifrin engineering firm; and Edna Bartosik, chairman of the Granite City council's special sewer committee. Ebersold could not attend.

He was in Springfield today attending an Illinois Commerce Commission hearing.

Kramer told the group that cost of widening Nameoki drainage channel to handle the increased stormwater drainage flow from Granite City sewers would range from $250,000 to $300,000. This cost would not include paving which Bloss said should be borne by the city.

Tolar told city officials that the levee board has no funds to do the work immediately, but will include the item in a list of projects for which the levee district will attempt to obtain funds in the 1969 session of the Illinois General Assembly.

He said the levee board has no funds to do the work immediately, but will include the item in a list of projects for which the levee district will attempt to obtain funds in the 1969 session of the Illinois General Assembly.

R. G. Ogilvie, County GOP Open 1968 Campaigns in GC

Richard B. Ogilvie, (R), Northfield, initiated his downstate campaign for the Illinois gubernatorial nomination in Granite City yesterday in a meeting that also marked the opening of the 1968 Republican election drive in Madison county.

Ogilvie, who announced his bid for the GOP governorship several weeks ago, was the guest of honor at an early breakfast meeting in the Rose Bowl yesterday, but at the same time county Republican leaders announced an almost completed list of candidates who will run as a ticket in the 1968 elections at the county level.

County Republican Chairman Charles Walters of Alton, one of the preliminary speakers, announced an almost completed list of candidates for county office in the June primary will include David John of Granite City, Granite City clerk; Robert Thomas, Granite City, for coroner; Pete Fuchs, Alton, for auditor, and (Continued on Page 15, Col. 1)

Council Rejects 128-Apartment Project

Failure of the Granite City council Monday night to approve a final plan for a 13 additional lots on which houses were to be built in the first phase of the 128-unit plan for North Wilson Park drive off Indiana avenue.

John Defford, St. Louis developer associated with George J. Giza & Associates Architects, said he is undecided whether he will pursue plans to build a proposed 128-unit apartment area south of East Pontoon road. "If Granite City doesn't want that kind of development, we can take it to many places that do," he said.

The decision developed after a motion for rezoning to R-5 for apartments, a 50-foot strip of land in an R-3 single family "buffer strip" between the Stearns avenue and Village lane, just south of Pontoon road, died on the floor of the city council session Monday for lack of a second.

Mayor Explains Underpass

Pace is Re-named President Of Venice Homecoming Unit

Albert F. Pace, 1225 Klein Street, was elected president of the Venice Homecoming Memorial Association for its seventh consecutive term at the annual election meeting, held Tuesday evening at St. Mark's Catholic Church.

More than 30 association members attended the annual event which was highlighted with a talk by Venice Mayor Dr. John E. Lee, who discussed problems involved in construction of the Broadway underpass, and a decision to renovate and refurbish the association's building at Third street and Broadway.

Officials named to serve with Pace during the coming year include Mrs. Sybil Robbs, vice-president; William M. Eberhart, secretary; and Bernard Anderson, treasurer.

Board of Directors
Elected to the governing board of directors, were William Mochan Jr., Willis Blades, John O. Pler, Daniel McGee, Leo Scherrills, August Daniels, William Boerckel, Marion Grohopp, Lloyd Patterson, Dr. Lee, Mrs. Creola Warnhoff, Mrs. Ann Hardin, Walter T. Simmon, Lorraine Daniels, Mrs. Beth Snell, A. J. Hardin, Larry Hartman, Mrs. Bess Stoll, Thomas E. Maher, Tom Williams, Donald Phillips, Rev. Don D. Williams, Harry Hadley, Fred Durer and Charles Bilbrey.

During the business session, Pace was authorized to seek bids to remodel the lower floor of the association-owned building at Broadway and Third street. Upon completion, the renovated area will be leased as office space, it was learned.

Mayor Lee, who was introduced by the newly-elected president, explained that delay in construction of the Broadway underpass lies solely with the three railroads that will use the top of the structure because of a recent change in railroad plans that held up completion of state highway department specifications for the project.

As a result, he said, the railroads should be required to pick up added construction costs growing out of the delay. The Illinois Commerce Commission ordered construction of the underpass structure in 1964 and set Oct. 30, 1967 as the deadline for its completion.

Cost Apportionment
The ICC also apportioned costs of the work, $625,000 to the State of Illinois, a "maximum" of $180,000 to the three railroads — the GM&O, New York Central and Norfolk & Western — and $420,000 to the city of Venice.

Due to the delay caused by changes in railroad plans, labor and material costs of building the underpass have risen during the past two years by 4.5% per year, or a total of 9%. Therefore, Mayor Lee said, the cost to the city of Venice is now estimated at $355,000 instead of $420,000, while the railroad cost of $180,000 remains fixed by the 1964 ICC order.

A reapportionment of the construction costs, with the railroads given a higher share of the cost, will be sought in the ICC hearing that is scheduled today in Springfield, the mayor explained.

Preceding the business meeting and program, a turkey supper was served with dinner music provided by an ensemble, consisting of Fred Cini, Phillip Luffman and Clarence Harmon.

Portell Seeking Third Term as Circuit Clerk

Willard "Burch" Portell of Granite City announced his candidacy for re-election to a third term of office as clerk of the circuit court at a meeting of Granite City Democratic precinct committee Wednesday night at the Rose Bowl. He currently is circulating petitions.

He said he would seek endorsements after the state and county Democratic central committees make theirs. In a statement, Portell said, "The office of the clerk of the circuit court has become probably the biggest job in the county with the enactment of the judicial reform in January 1964. This office now takes in all the court work in Madison county which includes the old probate, county, city and old magistrate courts along with the old circuit court dues. All cases of any nature are now filed with the circuit clerk's office."

"This is not a one man office. It is a job that takes efficiency of all employees of this office, and I feel that my office is one of the most efficient in the state of Illinois and is rated by the attorneys as one of the top three offices of circuit clerks in the state."

"My intention if re-elected is to conduct this office efficiently, and as finances allow, to modernize the office even more than it is to date. There is still quite a bit more work to be done to implement the judicial reform to the greatest degree."

"At the present time, I am one of the five circuit clerks on a committee in the state which meets with the Supreme Court administrator's office, Illinois Bar Association and the Judges Association as to the working of the courts in the circuit clerk's office in conjunction with the judicial order."

Smoke, Fog Cause Accidents—9 Injuries

Nine persons were injured in four auto accidents on Route 203 south of Madison and on Interstate 70 Monday night as thick smoke from a burning dump blocked the vision of motorists. Fog Tuesday morning caused a five-car accident on Route 111.

The smoke caused state police to blockade Route 203 from Bend road to Interstate 70 and the Interstate 70 highway from Route 111 to East St. Louis from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Anton Telford, sanitary engineer for the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board in this region, was at the scene, along with estate highway engineer.

Telford said the smoke appeared to be coming from two dumps operated by Bud Brown, who resides in Missouri. An injunction was issued against Brown from operating dumps in the vicinity a year ago, but the ruling is under appeal.

Telford obtained a warrant against Brown three months ago on a charge of illegal dumping but it has never been served.

The accidents occurred between 8:50 and 10:15 p.m.

Accident Victims

The auto of Elizabeth J. Walters, 32, of East St. Louis, was stopped due to the smoke.

Col. Hoskin to Speak
At Auxiliary Dinner

Col. Charles E. Hoskin III, commanding officer of the Granite City Army Depot, will be the featured speaker Saturday evening at the installation banquet of the Ladies Auxiliary, Local 7463-A, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union. The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Rose Bowl restaurant.

Those to be installed include: Mrs. Jacquelyn Rost, president; Mrs. Jolene Myers, first vice-president; Mrs. Mary Tankley, second vice-president; Mrs. Betty Cantlon, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred Grobolski, secretary; Mrs. Clara Cook, guardian; Mrs. Zella Porch, warden; Mrs. Mae Pirle, historian; Mrs. Janice Johnson, conductress; and Mrs. Florence Schall and Mrs. Jean Seibold, trustees.

The affair also will serve to launch a drive through which the organization hopes to establish a Women's Activity Division Room in the Granite City area, where potential voters may register. Members of the auxiliary will serve as registrars together with other volunteer personnel.

Plans for Saturday's dinner party were reviewed Monday evening during an executive session, held in the home of Mrs. Mildred Grobolski, 1724 Olive street.

Members also agreed to serve as volunteer solicitors in the West Granite area for the March of Dimes—"Mothers' March," slated to be held Monday, Jan. 20, and to act as chairmen in other projects connected with the annual fund-raising campaign.

Marriage License

A marriage license was issued to Robert V. Moore, 2813 Iowa street, and Florence L. Coggins, 2413 (n) Grand avenue, Tuesday by Deputy License Clerk Mrs. Elvira Thurber.

Losses Wallet at School

Fred Crook, 2120a Adams street, reported to police Wednesday afternoon that he had lost his billfold containing papers at Prather junior high school.

The report, looking ahead to 1968 said—"we are looking forward to 1968 with cautious optimism." Froemling continued, "the reason for this cautious note is that there are many factors at work in the money markets today which can determine the frame-work of the savings and loan business during the coming year."

"Certainly the devaluation of the British pound is going to have an effect on the money markets. In effecting this nation's monetary policy, which it certainly will, the pound devaluation will also affect the savings and loan industry which is inescapably bound with the country's monetary policy."

While the financial markets will continue unsettled for some time to come, there is little doubt that the supply of money will tighten up with a corresponding upward boost in interest rates. All things considered Madison County Federal Savings and Loan is looking forward to 1968, not only as a challenging year, but as a successful one."

Officers re-elected were, Froemling, president, Buente, vice-president, Rosch, vice-president, C. P. Spickard, secretary-treasurer and N. L. Jackson, assistant secretary.

and a truck driven by Gerald Blumberg, Hamburg, Mo., skidded into its rear. She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital here where she was admitted after x-rays to the pelvis and spine.

William Ebber, 54, of Godfrey, also was stopped due to a previous accident and a truck driven by Melvin S. Buchmiller, Hillsboro, Mo., struck the back of his auto. Ebber was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

Injured in another mishap was Linda Hutson, 20, of 2023 Bryan avenue, who was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital following x-rays to both knees and spine.

Willie Mayes and five of his children who reside in Lee Wright Homes, Venice, were hurt in the fourth accident.

They were treated for minor injuries at St. Mary's Hospital and were released.

Five-Car Mishap

Fog at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday morning caused a five-auto chain reaction accident on Route 111 in which Theodore A. Christensen, 62, of Brentwood, Mo., was injured. He received x-rays of the left leg here and was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital, Clayton, Mo.

The five cars were northbound on Route 111 a quarter-mile north of Interstate 270 when one driven by William L. Atchison, 32, of 1734 Spring avenue, stopped for traffic. Behind him came the autos of Walter Wallace, East St. Louis; Clarence Koesterer, Belleville; Christensen and Joseph Campanella, East St. Louis.

Crash on Madison Avenue

Southbound autos driven by Duane Teeter, 1513 Lindell blvd., and Ronald Wallace, 705 East Chain of Rocks road, were involved in an accident yesterday afternoon in the 3000 block of Madison avenue.

Medical Section Tops Goal In United Fund Campaign

Mitchell B. Milonski announced today the medical section of the Professional Division of the 1968 Tri-Cities Area United Fund campaign has topped its goal by $1,583.

Milonski, who is heading the drive, congratulated Dr. F. B.

Dioneda, chairman of the section, in reaching and surpassing the $5400 goal. The amount was reached when Dr. Dioneda obtained a pledge from a newly-arrived physician.

The section's solicitation included doctors, their office staffs and technicians and employees of St. Elizabeth Hospital. The Professional Division had previously exceeded its goal of $5500 and now stands at $5917.58, for 104.4% of its objective.

Dr. Dioneda immediately was presented with his "Lil Angel" award, symbolic of the high regard held for all United Fund quota busters. Milonski said.

The award presentation was made by John Solenberger, executive director of the United Fund.

3 Charges Filed

Charges of operating a motor vehicle with an improper muffler, improper display of state license plates and improper use of state license plates were placed against Randall Clubb, 106 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was arrested about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday at Niedringhaus and Grand avenues.

Traffic Charges

Two motorists were issued arrest tickets Wednesday afternoon at 20th street and Edwardsville road on charges of making left turns when prohibited. They were Wayne Strubberg, 4708 Kirkpatrick Homes, and William McClain of St. Louis.

Self-Analysis

Making a fool of your self isn't a bad mistake if you've sense enough to know who did it.

UNITED FUND "LIL ANGEL" award being presented to Dr. F. B. Dioneda (left) by UF Executive Director John Solenberger as the Medical Section of the Professional Division of the 1968 fund campaign topped its $5400 quota.

Auto-Truck Accident

A truck and an auto both traveling north on Madison avenue and making left turns onto Nameoki road were involved in an accident Wednesday morning. Police said the tractor-trailer truck was being operated by Cecil Glick of Gary, Ind., and the auto by Burley Rodgers, 2205 Elm street. The left side of the car was damaged.

Crash at Signal Light

An auto driven south on Madison avenue by Paul Tow of South Roxana hit the rear of a Checker Cab operated by Kenneth Fisher, 3206 Kirkpatrick Homes, on Madison avenue at 23rd street, where the cab was stopped for a traffic light Wednesday morning.

Kitchen Window Broken

Charles Pabst, 3712 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported to police at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday that a kitchen window in his apartment had been broken with a snowball.

Public sanction and approval is an indispensable factor in any lasting victory.

American Bank Officers And Directors Re-elected

Directors of the American National Bank of Granite City were re-elected during the annual meeting of shareholders held yesterday afternoon.

Also renamed were the bank board's officers, and Leo Roth was named to the post of assistant vice-president. He started with the bank last August, after years of experience in the Alton area.

Director named were—William Beatty, attorney of Beatty, Schooley and Theis law firm; Arthur F. Buente of Bunte's Shoes and Men's Furnishings; Ernest A. Karandjeff, Henry D. Karandjeff, Harold F. Karandjeff, William Kozysk, president of Kozysk's Grocery; Robert A. Maddox, president of Maddox Motors, Inc.; Peter G. Markuly, president of Markuly Plumbing & Heating Co., and M. Freeman Wolfe, president of M. H. Wolfe & Co.

Officers renamed were Henry D. Karandjeff, board chairman; Harold Karandjeff, president; C. J. Bartosiewicz, vice-president; Arthur R. Koepfer, cashier; Bernard Maples, Helen Mangoff and Sylvia Roy, assistant cashiers, and Henrietta Johnson, auditor.

Tour Facilities

The shareholders were given a tour of the bank to inspect the recently moved loan department in the lower level, the new bookkeeping room and the refurbished main lobby.

In his report to shareholders, Harold Karandjeff paid tribute to Oscar A. Reinhardt, an organizer of the bank who passed away in 1967.

Karandjeff said, "Mr. Reinhardt's devotion to the bank, and his love of his fellow man is a proper dedication for the bank's management to follow."

Karandjeff pointed out that more than 50% of the bank's employees have been with the bank for seven or more of the bank's nine years of existence, and that more than 50% of the original staff of the bank is still employed. "This continuity of employment insures that our customers received courteous, efficient service, and wise counsel in all their bank transactions."

Computerized Methods

The past year was one of breaking in computerized methods for handling checking accounts, according to Karandjeff, who said, "The American National is proud to be the first bank in the area to provide this most accurate of systems for its depositors." He also pointed out that the bank would convert its savings accounts and installment loan accounts to computer operation during 1968, and that this would result in greater accuracy and more readily available information for its depositors and borrowers.

Karandjeff remarked that 1968 would be a year of further growth of the Nameoki road area, and that buildings now under construction will add substantially to the retail sales in the area and also provide business office facilities that have not been available in the past. The timetable for the bank-charged plan for St. Louis area banks was announced to the shareholders. He explained that this plan will permit any card holder to charge purchases at virtually any store he wishes, thus benefiting the small merchant who found in the past he had been unable to efficiently handle charge sales.

"American National is in the forefront of the progressive group of banks banding together to provide this simple method of charge account banking to our customers," Karandjeff said. He explained that the present plans call for the cards to become available to bank customers in late summer, and that an advertising program to acquaint people with the new system will be the largest advertising program ever undertaken in the area.

Mitchell Link, 69, Found Dead at Home

Mitchell Link, 69, of 2204 Richmond avenue, a life-long resident of the Quad-Cities, was found dead at home by a relative about 8 a.m. yesterday. In bed, in an adjoining room, was his wife, Alma, a semi-invalid, who had lapsed into a coma.

Both had been in fairly good health the previous day, according to Mrs. Raymond Scott, a sister of Mrs. Link, who had telephoned the home earlier yesterday morning to ask her sister to go shopping. Upon receiving no answer, to the call, Mrs. Scott went to the house.

Mr. Link was pronounced dead at the scene by Robert Thomas, deputy coroner. He had been under the care of a local physician. An autopsy will be performed.

Mrs. Link remains unconscious today at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Thieves Jack Up Box Cars, Steal Brass Journals

Thieves removed 40 brass journals from 13 railroad cars in the yards of the Purdy Co., Washington street, Venice, according to a report to Venice police Monday afternoon. Police said the thieves apparently jacked up the standing rail cars to remove the journals which weigh about 22 pounds each. With a scrap metal value of 35 cents a pound the loot was valued at more than $300.

A 1961 white four-door hard-top auto owned by the American National Bank was stolen during the weekend from Bob's service station, 2314 Namecki road, it was reported at 1:35 p.m. Monday. The car was found Tuesday at 24th street and Grand avenue.

MORE ABOUT Juvenile

The county had taken part in the project, the bids were good, according to the architect and "if we don't go along with this now, we'll be going against the people."

Almost six members voting "no" was Claude Echols of Venice township.

The board is to obtain title insurance for the tract, and William Straube of Edwardsville township advised obtaining title insurance for the tract of the sanitarium property. He said bonding companies financing the detention home will want the insurance as collateral.

County Jail Project

The board authorized advertising for bids to strengthen a wall on the county jail, to remodel the building and construct an addition to accommodate the sheriff's office.

Alton May of Alton township objected that repairs would be a waste of money as a firm of engineers gave the building "zero" life and the board was ignoring an expensive county building study.

Jay Maurer of Venice township, chairman of the county jail committee, reported that an architect advised that with repairs the building "will be in very good shape." The board previously appropriated $85,000 in the budget for the work.

An additional appropriation for a garage, remodeling and improvement of grounds at the county Civil Defense center in Edwardsville was approved.

The Hellmuth Construction Co. of Alton was awarded a contract to construct the truck garage on a low bid of $30,895.

The board also authorized advertisement for bids for a mobile unit to be used for registration of voters and to deliver election supplies. It would hold a card table and folding chairs for use in subdivisions where no other space is available to register voters and where persons find it difficult to register.

Purchase of a police pursuit car for the sheriff's office from Doak Dodge Inc. of Wood River on a low bid of $2310 was approved.

Gogniat Named Chief Executive of Nestle

Formerly the company's chief operating officer, Gogniat succeeds Hans J. Wolfisberg, who continues as chairman of the board, until his retirement in the spring, after 41 years with the Nestle group. Gogniat has been Nestle's president since March 1967.

Turns Right, Collides

While attempting to make a right turn, an auto driven by Donald E. Faustich, Staunton, collided with another driven by Paul Slliton, 743a Broadway, Venice, at 7:25 a.m. today on Edwardsville road at Iron street.

The Triangle Typewriter Co. of Granite City was awarded a contract for maintenance of typewriters and related office equipment at the rate of $15.05 per unit with 150 units to be inspected twice a year. The bid was the same as last year.

Approval was given to continue a program of microfilming court records in the circuit clerk's office at a cost not to exceed $20,000.

Harold Landolt, board chairman, appointed Walter Sparks of Chouteau township, J. Clifford Krug of Godfrey township and Wilford Sussen of Fort Russell township to a special committee to study the feasibility of forming a county police district.

County holidays to be observed were fixed for Feb. 12, Feb. 22, April 12, Jan. 6, May 30, June 11, July 4, Sept. 2, Oct. 12, Nov. 5, Nov. 11, Nov. 28, Dec. 25 and Jan. 1. The court house also will be closed on May 31, July 5 and Dec. 26.

Six-month audits for the period ending Nov. 30 showed excess fees of $187,580 by the county treasurer and $2804 by the coroner.

Patients at the county TB sanitarium dropped by three to 18 during December, while the case load at the county nursing home remained at a peak of 59 patients.

Trojans Regain Form, Thrash Conference Foe

Winner of its first nine games, the Madison high school basketball team broke a two-game losing streak Tuesday night, topping Midwestern Conference rival Triad 77-63 at the Trojan gym. Gary Lusk of MHS sank 18 of 24 field goal attempts and shot seven of 10 from the free throw line for a total of 43 points. He now has 351 points for the first 11 games of the year, an average of 32 a game. The quarter scores were 19-14, 42-29 and 65-47. Madison breaking it wide open in the third period prior to an ineffective late rally by the visitors. Triad's mistake was to try to keep pace with the speedy Trojans, who consistently beat the Knights into position. Rebounds Vs. Steals Under the basket, the Trojans dominated the game. Tom Weston brought down 16 offensive and defensive rebounds. Setting up the most shots was Dale Clinton, who assisted in six field goals. In the last quarter, the Knights stole the ball seven times to temporarily revive their fans' hopes. Both teams used a full court press combined with a tight zone under the basket. The Trojans used their height to advantage by advancing the ball with high hard passes. Compared to last week's 24% field goal shooting at Cahokia, the Trojans connected on 33 of 72 attempts for 46%, and hit 11 of 23 free throws. Scoring in the game were: Jim Collins 16, Weston seven, Titus Ship 3 and Keith Williams, Mike Harper, Jim Scott and Ed Hilton, two each. Flying rumors have little difficulty finding landing strips.

GC Vs. Host Team in Dupo Meet Semifinals

Defending champion Granite City may get a chance to do just that—defend its Dupo high school invitational title in the championship game at 9 p.m. Saturday.

GCIS has qualified for the semifinals of the 27th annual basketball tournament, meeting the host team at 8:30 p.m. Friday. The Warriors then will either go into the third-place game at 7:30 p.m. Saturday or if victorious against Dupo will advance to the first-place contest.

Also still alive in the winners' bracket are two Belleville quintets, East and West, which will meet for the first time ever in the other semifinal clash at 8:30 tonight.

The other four tournament entries will vie for consolation honors. Roxana and Freeburg are paired at 7 o'clock tonight and Jerseyville and O'Fallon at 7 p.m. Friday. Survivors of these games will collide at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Defeat Jerseyville Competition so far has seen Belleville West batter Roxana 88-54 Tuesday. Belleville East outdistanced Freeburg 75-56 Tuesday, the Warriors trim Jerseyville 76-65 last night and Dupo edge O'Fallon 61-57 last night.

The Belleville West Maroons, who have won the Dupo meet the most times, are favored to reach the championship game along with the Warriors, now 5-4 for the season and steadily improving.

Halting a three-game Jerseyville winning streak, GCIS gained a narrow advantage of 28-13, 35-34 and 51-48 at the quarters, before stepping up their scoring pace.

Scoring leader Gary Simpson, 23 points, got strong help from John VanBuskirk, with 21. The latter hit 10 of 14 field goal attempts.

Roger Belche and Gary Ride-nour each contributed 10 points. Mike Hutchings and Tim Mood and Jeff Jones, two each. Rider-nour had 12 rebounds.

Simpson's nine-game total of 241 points represents a 26-point average.

Aggressive defense led to foul trouble for both teams. Simpson was fouled out, Belche fouled out and bonus free throws aided Jerseyville, which also was helped by deadly accurate long shots.

95 Told of Progress In Vietnam Education

Steadily growing in participation, the SIU-SW Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce "world affairs" series attracted 95 to a dinner Tuesday night at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Chamber Vice-President Leo Konzen presided and this week's speaker was Dr. Harold L. DeWeese, the university's chief-of-party in South Vietnam from 1963 to 1967.

Major upgrading of elementary education is being achieved in militarily secure areas and further progress seems likely, he said, adding that the Vietnamese have shown ability and dedication in improving their schools in cooperation with SIU and the U. S. Agency for International Development. Photographic slides and a question period followed his talk.

SIU's four-year contract expires in 1969 and another extension will be discussed this year the group was told.

Recipient of South Vietnam's highest civilian decoration, Dr. DeWeese was active in raising pupil and teacher standards, developing in-service faculty training, expanding normal (teacher training) schools and encouraging free schools for the general population rather than those limited to the wealthy or unusually bright.

MORE ABOUT Levee District

15 (Nameoki ditch at Victory drive and Edwardsville road.) "This most recent study analyzed by this district in cooperation with engineers for the district and engineers for the city of Granite City."

"It is recognized by all parties that the issuance of the permit requested will add to the already existing problem of proper and adequate runoff of stormwater in the general area, and that this problem is rapidly increasing in intensity as the area continues to develop. All parties recognize the necessity to strive for a solution to this problem in the very near future by mutual effort and assistance."

"It is the conclusion of our study that with preparatory work by the Levee District on the Nameoki ditch between Victory drive and Horseshoe Lake, the permit requested by the city of Granite City may be issued at this time."

The issue developed in a meeting of the levee district board Jan. 3 when board members decided to delay action on a request by Granite City for permission to discharge stormwater drainage into the Nameoki drainage channel through its proposed new sewer system.

The request was made in a letter sent by Partney to the levee district's engineering department.

Decision to withhold action until it could discuss the city's plans more fully with Granite City officials was based on a report by Horner & Shiffrin, levee district engineers, which asserted that additional stormwater flow from Granite City would overtax capacity of the Nameoki ditch in periods of peak water flows and would flood areas which the ditch originally was designed to drain.

Needs Enlargement

Levee board members indicated that approval for Granite City use of the ditch would require extensive enlargement of the channel from Victory drive to Horseshoe Lake, with slideslope and bottom paving to prevent erosion. Almost the same project outlined in a 1961 engineering report by Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab fixed estimated cost at more than $15 million. Rising costs of construction since the 1961 report was made probably would bring the current cost to at least $22 million.

Mayor Partney claimed the city actually paid for enlarging the channel in a letter of March 1966, but Kraemer contended the letter also contained the situation that the channel first must be enlarged.

MORE ABOUT

R. B. Ogilvie

missioners and one of the few Republicans to successfully oppose the Democratic political control of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, told approximately 50 persons attending yesterday's meeting that "Daley, not Governor Kerner, runs the state of Illinois."

He predicted that Gov. Kerner will seek re-election in the 1968 elections, and said he based such prediction on a recent statement by Mayor Daley that "he sees nothing wrong with a governor serving a third term."

This, he added, "will be the green light for Gov. Kerner to seek re-election."

Noting that virtually all of the persons attending the breakfast meeting were representatives of business or industry in the area, Ogilvie called upon them to evaluate the true importance of county officials when considering their choices of candidates.

Overlook County Offices

"All too often businessmen and industrialists are too concerned over the election of a president or a senator during our elections," he said, adding that they "therefore overlook the importance of county officials and what it means to the operation of efficient, economic government."

He called upon business and industry to "get in the campaign for a Republican victory all of the way," urging them to assist Republican workers financially as well as with their votes.

One of the major issues at stake in this year's elections, Ogilvie said, will be to win control of the House in Congress and to retain control of the House in the Illinois Legislature.

Illinois, he said, is traditionally a Republican state "and I believe we have a new look in the Republican party."

Ralph Smith Is Speaker

Ogilvie was introduced by House Speaker Ralph Smith, (R), Alton, who will serve as the candidate's downstate campaign manager.

Rep. Smith told the meeting that the Republican party can win a victory in Madison county with proper organization, but he said that Granite City is a "weak spot" in Republican organizational operations in Madison county and urged the election this year of precinct committeemen who would cooperate in working for inroads into the present Democratic strength in Granite City.

He said he chose to support Ogilvie in the gubernatorial race because of his knowledge and his ability to function as a public service, and because of his ability to win elections. He reviewed Ogilvie's political background and noted that Ogilvie first broke the Democratic machine grip in 1962 when he was elected sheriff of Cook county.

Was Cook County Sheriff

Ogilvie was elected President of the Cook County Board of Commissioners upon expiration of his term as sheriff in 1966 and received more votes in Cook county than any other candidate on the ballot, either Republican or Democrat. His election was accompanied by Republican victories in the office of county treasurer, sheriff and other county posts.

Following the meeting in Granite City, Ogilvie and area and county leaders held another meeting and press conference at Holiday Inn at Edwardsville. Walters told the Press-Record that completion of the county ticket by selection of a candidate for state's attorney and possibly a candidate for state representative to run on the GOP ticket with Rep. Smith will be made soon.

Local Optometrist To Address GCAR

Dr. Benjamin T. Rose, local optometrist, will speak to members and guests of the Granite City Association for the Retarded, at the group's regular meeting Monday evening in the Fellowship Hall of St. John United Church of Christ.

Eugene Tondre, association president, said today all interested parents are invited to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting and hear Dr. Rose explain several helpful ideas which may be used in cooperation with visual and programs now being utilized in special education classes. Topic for Monday's program is "The Development of Visual Perception."

3-Vehicle Pileup

Three vehicles were damaged Wednesday afternoon in a pile-up on 20th street at Niedringhaus avenue. The involved vehicles included an auto driven by Thomas Tindall, 4504 Walters avenue; a pickup truck operated by Gerald Correll, 2538 Palmer avenue; and an auto driven by Helen Hopkins of Glen Carbon.

MORE ABOUT Council

"But I hate to lose a good chairman." The mayor noted there has been no set procedure for referral of such plans to the city engineer.

Has Insurance Firm Backing

Defford, developer of many major subdivisions and shopping center complexes in the St. Louis area, told the Press-Record that "this project is the only one I know of in the Granite City area that was presented with all financial arrangements completed and definite commitments for beginning work immediately. It's financial backing was arranged through insurance companies, and this is unusual in this type of development."

He said he has not decided whether he will continue in plans to build the complex of 128 apartment units in 15 different buildings supplemented by swimming pool, laundry facilities and separate parking areas "because Granite City doesn't seem to want this sort of thing."

Defford said that much time and work had gone into the preparation of plans, and other details preliminary to beginning construction on the project. To continue with the project will require a revision of plans and therefore a renewal of all commitments, he said.

Opposition by Attorney

"The only opposition to the project appeared to come from an attorney who appeared at two of the planning commission meetings, but who failed to show up at the third meeting when the reasoning portion of the project was approved unanimously by the plan commission," Defford noted.

"However, he was pretty busy at the council meeting and contacted nearly every council member before the meeting began," he commented, adding that "I didn't realize that the city was run by one person."

While he refused to mention any names, his reference apparently was to opposition expressed by Atty. William Beatty who appeared at two plan commission meetings in December when the apartment project was scheduled for hearing.

Beatty, who was in the audience Monday night, told the Press-Record that he had made objections as a spokesman for himself and his neighbors, who live in the vicinity of the proposed development.

"That 'green belt' is nothing but a swamp and will be no more, but a breeding place for mosquitoes. Who's going to cut the weeds and keep it green?" he pointed out.

He pointed out that the buffer strip is not near his home, the original plan for a 117-acre development south of Pontoon road was for a buffer strip of single family dwellings around the entire tract.

Other Changes
"If the zoning is changed for this one unit of the tract, then why wouldn't it be changed for another developer in the future. Over at Pontoon Plaza, the apartments were planned and the city required that developer to put in a buffer of houses and duplexes between the apartment buildings and Cloverview subdivision, he continued.

"This buffer strip was to be single family dwellings, and I can see no reason to change the original plans," Beatty resides at 115 Riviera drive.

Mayor Favors Project
Defford said he was under the impression that Mayor Donald Partney was in favor of the project and that he would make no decision "one way or another" until he could discuss the matter with the mayor and with William Hoelscher, chairman of the City Plan Commission, who also apparently was in favor of the project.

The proposal to the city council consisted only of approving rezoning of 50 feet of a 150-foot buffer strip between the rear of the Eighth, Cloverview addition, fronting on Pontoon road, and the nine-acre tract on which Defford proposed to build the apartment complex. Defford had produced a signed easement deed giving the other 100 feet of the strip to the city to guarantee against construction of any other kind of housing in the future behind the homes in the Cloverview addition.

Defford's plot plan also provided a 100-foot "green strip" in addition to the buffer — in which only three "town house" apartment units and a swimming pool would be built.

Would Prevent Building
He said he made this proposal to assure residents of the Cloverview addition that the buffer strip area would never be violated.

In addition, Defford assured the city that he would pave Village lane for its full width at a distance of 580 feet to provide a city street that doesn't now exist except for a curb opening on Pontoon road.

Hoelscher, told the Press-Record that so far as the plan commission was concerned, it

DAY and Auxiliary Elect Husband, Wife

At a meeting Monday evening, the men elected John Nunes as commander, George Krpan, senior vice-commander; Marion Best, junior vice-commander; Joe Burke, chaplain, and Wally Bates, treasurer.

Wednesday evening the Auxiliary Unit met with Senior Vice-Commander Alta Carpenter, president. Ten members and one guest attended.

A social followed, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Heffler. Prizes were won by Dorothy Best, Bertha Kiehl, Alta Carpenter, Vi Kiphart and Mrs. Heffler.

The Egyptian District Meeting will be held at the VFW Hall, Mt. Vernon, on Sunday, Jan. 21.

Beginner Skate Class Scheduled at Rink

New skating instruction classes for beginners—pupils in the first grade—will be started at the Wilson Park skating rink beginning Monday, it was announced today. The classes will be each Monday from 4:30 to 5:20 p.m., and on Saturdays from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

In addition, adult lessons will be given from 8 to 9 p.m. on Mondays for men, women or couples. Harold Brown, park superintendent, pointed out that the instruction classes are for only one hour, but that participants may remain on the rink for the remainder of the skating period. Most skating periods are 2½ hours.

Brown said housewives also will start on Mondays from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. to qualify for Beta skating certificates, the second in a series of tests of skating skills. He said 25 persons have passed the Alpha division of the tests. Those who did not complete all points for the Alpha certificate may continue in instruction for arrangements to take a second test.

Truck-Auto Collision

A car driven by David L. DeGonia, 624 Bent road, and a pickup truck driven by Stanley Loetker, Carlyle, Ill., were damaged in a collision at Madison and Exting avenue in Madison at 1:30 p.m. yesterday. Police reported the accident occurred as Loetker attempted to go around DeGonia's car which had stopped, and skidded into the DeGonia car.

Car Hits Gas Pump

A gasoline pump at Oscar's Service Station, 12th and State streets, and a corner of the building, were damaged at 6:15 a.m. today when a car skidded on ice in the driveway. Madison police said the car was driven by Paul D. Grant, Edwardsville, who told them he was headed south on State street and turned in at the service station when his car skidded.

approved the project because it appeared to be one of the best-planned projects of its kind ever offered in Granite City. He said the dealing of the 100-foot strip to the city, paving of Village Lane and a voluntary "green strip" buffer on the developer's land were "extras" that Defford did not have to offer except in good faith.

Provided Ample Space
Hoelscher pointed out that the Granite City zoning law requires a minimum of 2500 square feet per unit for such projects, whereas the Defford plans provided for 3000 square feet per unit to provide ample "living space" and not crowd the area.

consequently, Hoelscher said, "Defford is within his legal right to go ahead with the apartment project within the land he owns without any recourse to the plan commission or the city. It would tighten up the density of the project, but there is nothing to keep him from building it."

Hoelscher said that he would explain details of the project to the city council if he were asked to do so.

The Plan Commission also advised the city council Monday night that new zoning maps have been completed by Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission. A series of meetings will be held soon with city, park and school officials to study the new zoning outlines. This is to be followed by preparation of revisions to the present city zoning code.

It is planned for the work to be completed by March 31, Rutledge told the council.

Bank and by about $100,000 of the federal grant. "The Housing and Urban Development agency won't turn loose of any of the grant funds until the city gives assurance that it can finance the overall $3,500,000 program that was approved by voters last June," the chairman added.

March 5 Bid Opening

When it was certain the $1,855,000 bond issue sale ordinance could not be adopted Wednesday night, Bartosik changed the bid opening date from Feb. 20 to March 5 to give ample time for prospective bidders to submit proposals. Construction plans for the storm water system have been completed.

On the first reading motion, Moerriens said he voted "no" for suspension of rules because the ordinance stated the sale was to be to the highest bidder. "I can't go for anything like that," he commented.

Bond Attorney's Explanation

Bond Atty. Calvo explained that the term highest bidder value of the bond issue, while in another paragraph the ordinance specifies that the city will take the lowest bid on interest rate.

Moerriens' objection was that the bond issue was not properly handled by a fiscal agent, and that the city was relying too much on the local attorney. "I have it from competent legal advice that all these mixups would not have occurred if the city had employed a fiscal agent."

He added that he also was protesting the issue because there was no provision to retire the bonds in reverse order in the event surplus funds became available.

Calvo explained the bond issue was to be paid from a direct levy of taxes and it was unlikely there would ever be a reserve, such as might build up under a revenue bond program.

Fry and Parmley said they are following the mandate of the Sixth Ward residents in opposing the storm water drainage program and will continue to vote against it.

Business Loss at Smith Plant May Reduce Jobs Here

Production of auto frames for Chevrolet plants formerly done at the A. O. Smith Corp. plant in Granite City has been transferred to other places and creates the "possibility of a loss of jobs at the Granite City plant for the balance of the 1968 automotive model year," a plant spokesman announced today.

The company said the transfer of business resulted when union officials of Boilermakers Union 575, whose 1200 members are now striking at the Smith plant, blocked a plan by the company to transfer its Granite City work to the A. O. Smith plant at Milwaukee, Wis.

Had the work been performed at the Milwaukee plant for the duration of the strike, the company said, the work "would have been returned to Granite City immediately after settlement of the dispute."

Company Says Jobs Lost
However, the company statement added, "because of the time necessary to adjust production schedules, steel orders and inventory, there now is the possibility of a loss of jobs at the Granite City plant."

The company said the Boilermakers union here solicited the aid of employees of the Milwaukee plant, members of the Smith Steelworkers Independent Union, to block production of the Granite City work there. The Milwaukee union refused the company permission to do additional shifts to do the work.

The company statement said: "When the strike of Boilermakers Local 575 began on Jan. 1, 1968, A. O. Smith Corp. endeavored to protect the jobs of its Granite City employees by planning the production of additional frames at the company's Milwaukee plant. The striking Boilermakers, apparently believing that they could exert additional economic pressure on the company, solicited the support of the Federal Labor Union, which represents production employees in Milwaukee, by urging them not to perform the additional work."

"Since the Milwaukee employees responded accordingly, our customer, who has other sources of supply, has placed the Granite City business elsewhere. Had the work been performed in Milwaukee during the strike, it would have been returned to Granite City immediately after settlement of the present dispute. However, because of the time necessary to adjust production schedules, steel orders, and inventory, there now is the possibility of a loss of jobs at the Granite City plant for the balance of the 1968 automotive model year."

"Should the strike continue for a prolonged period of time, the company is concerned about a permanent loss of employment in the Granite City community. Any strike causes hardships for the employees, the company, and the community. We are hopeful, therefore, that productive contract negotiations can proceed, and that an early settlement can be reached which will satisfy all parties and permit the resumption of work at our plant."

Don't Accept Theory
Flarce Warfield, president and business representative of the Boilermakers Union, said the union does not accept the theory that the company's business will be permanently lost, and said the union feels the work will be returned here when the strike is over.

The development came within a few hours after the first negotiation session since the strike began was held with U. S. Mediators at St. Louis. Warfield said the meeting broke up "without progress."

Another meeting is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. next Wednesday in the offices of the U. S. Conciliation and Mediation Service at St. Louis.

Chandler Fizer and Robert Gonsrud, federal mediators, are handling the negotiations for the mediation service.

Warfield said discussions yesterday were confined to seniority issues involving job selection within departments. Previously both union and company officials had asserted the seniority issues were the only phases of a new contract considered in 26 negotiation meetings prior to the strike which began at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 1, immediately after expiration of the union contract.

Warfield said that he was informed the Smith Steelworkers union at Milwaukee conducted a one-day strike at the Milwaukee plant recently. The company denied such a strike occurred.

MORE ABOUT 20 Days

township officials and area residents Tuesday.

Nameoki Township Assessor Joseph J. Cohan, who was present at the meeting, noted that taxpayers whose property assessment is re-evaluated have 20 days from the date of publication to file protests on their new assessments if they wish to do so.

Cohan pointed out the increase in property assessments in Nameoki township, ordered by the Madison County Board of Review to qualify for a state multiplier of 1.0, is expected to raise total assessments in the township from $11 to $34 million.

He also noted that improved and unimproved lots and subdivision platted prior to 1957 will be unaffected by the increased assessment order, explaining that a 25% blanket increase on 90% of all township property was ordered by the Board of Review that year.

Two other township problems discussed by the board involved indiscriminate parking of trailer homes and anticipated flooding of property located near Canteen Creek.

Auditor Herbert Polley expressed concern for future conditions in the Canteen Creek area. "We are going to have a mess on our hands as soon as the snow melts and the spring rains begin. What are we going to do about it?"

Clearance of the creek, especially in the State Park and Pontoon Beach areas, has been discussed by the board at previous meetings.

Assistant Supervisor Roger Dettour asked the board to seriously consider drawing up an ordinance prohibiting further indiscriminate parking of trailer homes within the township. Trailers confined to established parking areas.

Supervisor Harry Briggs said owners of several mobile homes, granted special use permits, are mostly hardship cases. Most of these people have requested permission to locate their trailers adjacent to the home of a family member, he stated.

Dettour requested an ordinance be presented at the annual town meeting eliminating all trailer parking in a state-licensed trailer park. "I don't believe we should allow even 'hardship cases' to park trailers in residential areas. This situation lowers property values," the assistant supervisor commented.

Dettour added, "Let's move all junk out of Nameoki township. We have to start somewhere, so why not with trailers?" Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks was commended by several persons at the meeting for "an excellent job" in clearing township roads, following the recent snow.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED
The Jolly Eight club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lucille Sobczak, 4280 Highway 162, 931-2711.

Games were played and prizes went to Mrs. Jettie Lassen, Mrs. Pat Dorch, Mrs. Lois Harp and the hostess.

The group celebrated the birthday of a member, Mrs. Marsha Sciaca. The refreshment table was decorated in a birthday theme, with a birthday cake as centerpiece.

Others present were Mrs. Geneva Kopchak, Mrs. Linda Sommers and Miss Loma Lassen. Next meeting will be in two weeks at the Sciaca home.

FIRST-AID, CAMP TOPICS
Boy Scout Troop 23 met Tuesday evening at the Long Lake firemen's recreation hall with Leonard Barron, scoutmaster, and Raymond Rodgers, assistant scoutmaster.

First-aid was discussed and plans were made to clean up their scout shed. A campout is planned in February, and the troop will attend summer camp.

Visitors were Steve Jones, David Senior and Chuck Edwards. New members are Morris Senior and Glen Adams. Others present were Willie Arnold, Richard Bredon, Fred Biggs, Eddie and Don Dumm, Pete Fournell, John Harper, Steve and Dave Hutchings, Dan James, Don Jones, Danny Kreber, Earl and Jeff Laymann, Rudy Recer, Mike Rodgers, Larry Taylor, Roger Yokley, Danny Duigier, Roger Daigier, Danny Adams, Richard Taylor and Don Adams.

He will report on his activities Saturday evening following a joint dinner with the B'nai Brith Women's board of directors of District 6. Highlight of the meeting will be a "Parade of Checks," an annual fund-raising event following the noon luncheon meeting Sunday. Earl Wechter, Glencoe, Ill., first vice-president of District 6, said the group hopes to raise $100,000 this year in honor of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the district. Last year $80,000 was contributed at the special luncheon. B'nai Brith District 6 is one of eight districts throughout the United States and Canada and is celebrating 100 years of service to the Jewish people and the community at large. The district encompasses 223 member lodges in the Midwest and Canada and has 45,000 members.

Venice 'Roadblock' Dance Set Saturday

The annual dance and "road-block" campaign conducted by the Venice Crippled Children's Organization to raise benefit funds will be staged Saturday in Venice. The day's activities will start with the "roadblock" campaign at 10 a.m. when volunteer Legionnaires and Venice Firemen will solicit motorists for cash donations at the four-way stop at Broadway and Klein street. The campaign will continue well into the afternoon. The annual dance will be held Saturday night in the Post 307 Legion Home at Venice. Music will be furnished by an orchestra for dancing. Tickets are $1 per person. Proceeds of the event which has been conducted for 30 years are used for donations to the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital, the Madison County Polio Foundation and individual cases involving care of crippled children.

Canister Distribution: Other 'Dimes' Events

Distribution of March of Dimes canisters to local business firms is being completed this week by a special volunteer team, headed by Dan Churovich, chairman, according to Mrs. Bernadine Hagnauer, 1968 campaign chairman for the Granite City area. In addition, members of the Roca Young Men's Club will conduct their second solicitation drive on downtown street corners, between 4 and 7 p.m. Friday, the chairman said. The youths previously sought contributions on Jan. 5. Permission also was granted by Granite City High School Principal Lawrence McElroy to members of the high school's cheerleading contingent to seek donations to the March of Dimes at two basketball contests, to be staged at the local school later this month, Mrs. Hagnauer announced.

most people
love our chips
...but then you can't please every last person.

Housewives, we have a proposition. We want your next bag of potato chips to be Cardinal... so here's what we'll do. You buy a 59¢ bag of Cardinal Potato chips and we'll give you a 39¢ bag free!

Try the smaller bag first. If you don't like the chips, take the big 59¢ bag out in the yard—in front of the entire neighborhood—and stomp on it!—Jump on it!—Crush it! Then send us the smashed bag (wrapped please) with the stomped chips in it and we'll return your 59¢.

How's that for satisfaction guaranteed? You can protest without cost.

Of course we're sure you'll love Cardinal potato chips, or we wouldn't make this offer. We know Cardinal fans are chompers, not stompers.

Benefit Increases—Future Beneficiaries

By RALPH BRASHER

In my last article I discussed the increased social security payments that would be coming to persons now on the social security benefit role in early March as a result of the amendments signed into law by President Johnson on Jan. 2, 1968.

The effect of the new legislation is also to increase the benefits of all future beneficiaries a minimum of 13%. A person under age 65 on social security had averaged $350 a month would, under the old law, get a benefit of $124.40. Under the new law, he would get $146.40, or $186.30 for himself and his wife if she was also 65 upon his retirement.

Under the new law, based on the same average earnings of $350 a month, his retirement benefit will be $140.40 a month, or $210.80 for the couple—$24.30 more a month.

The maximum retirement benefit under the old law would have been $168 a month ($252 for a couple) payable to a worker 29 years old in 1968 and retiring in the year 2004, with average earnings of $550 a month, or $600 a year.

How Law Benefits

Under the new law, this same worker can look forward to a monthly payment of $189.90 (284.90 for himself and his wife). For these workers who have been earning and who will continue to earn wages of $600 a year or less, the new amendments will mean sizable increases in their future benefit payments—and without comparable increases in the social security tax contributions they were scheduled to pay under the old law.

A worker earning $6000 a year will pay exactly the same amount of social security taxes in 1968 as he paid in 1967. In 1968 and 1970, he will actually pay $6.60 less for the year than he would have paid under the old law. In years after that he will pay only slightly more, with his maximum contribution no more than $1.38 more a month than he would have paid under the old law as it stood before the enactment of the benefit increases. These contribution rates also include the portion he pays toward his Medicare protection for his old age.

Higher social security contributions are scheduled, however, for the one out of four wage earners who earn over $6000. He will be paying social security contributions of up to $1200 more of his annual earnings.

Beginning with 1968, earnings up to $7800 a year will be subject to social security contributions and will also count toward social security benefits.

Added Contributions

For a worker earning the maximum of $7800 or more a year, this will mean additional social security contributions of $4.40 more per month in 1968, rising to a maximum additional contribution of $7.26 per month in 1987 and later, including the amount he pays for his and his wife's hospital insurance under Medicare.

These higher paid workers who will be paying substantially more in social security contributions are, however, the ones who will also get substantially higher benefits, ranging up to 30% higher than under present law.

For example, a young man now 27 or younger who pays social security contributions on $7800 a year will see his retirement at age 65, will collect 30% more monthly benefits than he would under present law—$218 a month for himself—$323 a month for himself and his wife.

His family's benefit protection in case of his disability or death is also substantially improved.

Even the higher paid middle-aged worker who is much closer to retirement age will find his benefit prospects greatly improved. For example, a worker who is 50 in 1968 and will pay social security contributions on earnings of $7800 a year for only 15 years will collect a retirement benefit of $188.80. This compares with the $155 per month he would have collected under the old law, an increase of 21.8%. He and his wife together will be eligible for $283.20 a month, instead of $232.50.

Successful Pro Hockey Trip: 2 More Planned

Success of the initial trip to a St. Louis Blues professional hockey league match, sponsored by the Granite City park district last Saturday in which 123 residents participated, has enabled local park officials to arrange two additional redemptive excursions, it was announced.

Park Supt. Harold Brown today commented, "We were very pleased at the response of Granite City residents to their first pro-hockey venture and, subsequently, have arranged with St. Louis Arena officials for a similar reduction in reserved seating costs for games on Wednesday, Feb. 7, and Saturday, March 2."

A total of 90 reserved seat tickets will be available for the St. Louis Blues-Brussels Bruins contest on Feb. 7, and 135 tickets for the March 2 match with the Chicago Black Hawks, current leaders in the National Hockey League's Eastern Division.

Charge to Granite Cityans for $2.50 reserved section seats will be $1.50 per person, with an additional $1 fee for round-trip bus transportation. Buses will depart from the Wilson Park ice rink parking area at 6:30 p.m. the evening of each game. Reservations should be made as soon as possible, Brown suggested, by calling the Wilson Park office, at 877-3069.

2 Mayors on Board

Madison National Bank Has Best Year in 1967

Madison Mayor Stephen A. Maeras was elected a director of the First National Bank in Madison during the bank's annual meeting Tuesday afternoon at which all officers were re-elected.

Mayor Maeras becomes the second mayor on the bank board. Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice, is on the bank board of directors and also serves as the bank president. Maeras succeeds his business partner, Frank Fijan, to the bank board. Fijan went off the board due to the press of business, Dr. Lee said.

Dr. Lee reported to the board that 1967 was one of the best years in the history of the bank, and he noted many advances were made in the handling of accounts.

Automation Started
"We have gone to automation so that checks now take only one day for processing instead of two," he explained. "Our bank also has increased its number of customers in the past year—by 273 demand depositors, 97 savings account customers and 12 certificate investors."

The bank president reported that the bank's total assets went up nearly a million dollars last year to total $12,639,943. Undivided profits which amounted to $85,000 in 1966, jumped to $149,000 last year.

Officers re-elected Tuesday were—James R. Alcott, board chairman and chief executive officer; Dr. Lee, president; Andrew N. Gitcho, executive

ICC Hearing On Underpass Cost Scheduled Today

A hearing on a petition by the city of Venice to reappoint city officials in the long-discussed Broadway underpass was scheduled before the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield this morning.

Venice city officials in Springfield to attend the hearing include Mayor John E. Lee, City Clerk William "Mike" Eberhardt, City Atty. Harry Hartman, Edward Juneau, city consulting engineer, and Walter Simmons, Madison county Democratic committee chairman.

Venice filed the petition after the Illinois State Highway Department filed a request with the ICC for an extension of time for completion of the underpass to May 1, 1970. The project was to have been completed under ICC order by Oct. 30, 1967.

Delay resulted, however, when the three rail lines that will use the top of the structure decided to change their track locations. This held up completion of construction specifications by the state highway department.

With the project now two years behind schedule, construction costs have jumped approximately 95% over original costs established by the ICC. These consisted of $23,000 for the state, $180,000 for the three railroads and $420,000 for the city of Venice.

Mayor Lee said the $180,000 figure set for the railroads is

Miss Alvina Stricker Dies in Portland, Ore.

Miss Alvina "Venie" Stricker, 85, former bookkeeper for Lee Shops, Inc., in Granite City, succumbed to an apparent heart attack at 7:15 p.m. Monday in Portland, Ore.

Miss Stricker collapsed at the home of a niece, Miss Jesselle Mallealeu, 7930 SW 4th street, Portland, with whom she had resided since leaving Granite City in 1937. She had been ill with a heart ailment for the past two years.

Born in Nashville, Ill., Miss Stricker had lived almost 40 years in the East St. Louis area, prior to moving to the local community in 1946. She was a charter member of the East St. Louis Business and Professional Women's club and a member of St. Peter United Church of Christ in Granite City.

Besides Miss Mallealeu, she is survived by two other nieces, Mrs. James (Josephine) Adamson of Lou Jann Hills, Edwardsville, and Mrs. Clarence (Marie) Harris of Carlyle, Ill.; and one nephew, Henry Stricker, of Granite City.

Mrs. Adamson and Mrs. Harris departed by plane Tuesday for Portland, where memorial services are scheduled this week. A family burial will be held in East St. Louis after next Sunday. Other arrangements are pending at the present time.

Herzing Aids Gunfire During Marine Landing

Navy Boatswain third class Willard C. Herzing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard L. Herzing of Route One, Okawville, former Granite Cityans, participated in operation "Fortress Sentry," a concentrated effort at stemming the enemy's flow of men and munitions from North Vietnam, it was learned this month.

As a crew member aboard the destroyer USS Morton, he helped provide supporting gunfire for Marines landing on the northern coast of South Vietnam near the Demilitarized Zone.

Leathernecks of the Second Battalion, Third Marine Regiment, were moved into the area by amphibious landing craft and helicopters. Navy and Coast Guard small craft, not controlled closer inshore to prevent the enemy escape by sea, and Marine Corps jet planes provided close air support for the ground forces ashore.

Ainad Shrine Plans Annual Meet, Election

Ainad Temple of East St. Louis will hold its annual meeting and election tomorrow at the Mosque, Potentate Roy L. Wilimzig Jr. of Granite City announced today.

Wilimzig pointed out that last year, 444 men became a part of the nearly 3100 members of the Temple that represents all of southern Illinois. Ainad Temple, chartered in 1913, now ranks with the larger Temples in Shrinism. He said that nearly $50,000 was funneled through Ainad to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. The money came from wills, bequests, donations and all types of fund-raising projects during the past year.

Employee-City Agreement Talks Being Scheduled

Council committees probably will handle employee agreement negotiations with unions representing workers in the various city departments, it was brought out at Monday night's Granite City council session.

The city is receiving notices from the unions that they will want to discuss wages and other items before the May 1 start of the new city fiscal year when most agreements are up for renewal. In the past several years, the negotiations have been handled by the council's Personnel committee, but that committee was eliminated over a year ago. Alderman Paul Rutledge said department heads are being advised to start immediately on preparations for new budgets. While the city's fiscal year starts on May 1, final action on new annual budgets usually is not completed until late July.

Plan Area Yule Tree
In approving the bill list, council members disputed the cost of the city hall Christmas trees, and Nomm suggested the council have a permanent tree planter on the lawn. He noted the tree cost $88, while there was a charge of $57 to have the tree trimmed. "It would be cheaper," he said, "to plant a permanent tree and have the custodial staff decorate it." No action was taken on his recommendation.

Also questioned was a $1200 payment to Harland Bartholomew & Associates for professional services in surveying and planning for the city's Urban Renewal project that was rejected last summer by the council.

Other major items on the bill list were $1615 paid to East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. for December rental on 391 fire hydrants, $2772 paid to Illinois Power Co. for street lighting, $2037 paid to Research Planning & Design for engineering the 1968 motor fuel tax maintenance program, $840 to the Illinois Municipal League for membership, $3367 to Aetna Life Insurance Co. for employee hospitalization insurance in January, $3300 to the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund for employee retirement.

Hit-Run Accident
Mary Young of Edwardsville reported to Granite City police about 10 p.m. Tuesday that as she was driving east in the 2500 block of Lincoln avenue, a west-bound auto slid on the icy pavement into the left side of her auto and then kept on going.

Sen. A.R. Gottschalk in GOP Race For Illinois Governor

State Senator Arthur R. Gottschalk, (R) Florence, entered the race for the Illinois Republican gubernatorial nomination Monday with a whirlwind airplane tour of the state to announce his candidacy at seven major stops, including Alton.

He made only brief talks at all stopovers, announcing he will run on his record as a legislator for the past seven years.

He made his first statement in Chicago and then began a 700-mile airplane tour with a caravan of three planes, making stops at Rockford, Moline, Peoria, Springfield, Alton, Champaign and then back to Chicago for another meeting Monday night.

He also noted that he sponsored legislation that resulted in creation of the Department of Business and Economic Development. The candidate is chairman of the legislative commission. He said he believed a half billion dollars could be cut from the present budget of about $6 billion without eliminating any state services.

Gottschalk, 42, has been a state senator since 1960 and during that period was chief sponsor of legislation creating two code departments—the Department of Business and Economic Development and the Department of Children and Family Services.

He also waged a fight to put strong credit reform laws on the books which he accomplished in the 1967 session of the Legislature. The Credit Reform Laws of 1967 became effective Jan. 1.

He is a vice-president of the Reuben H. Donnelly Corp., a national publishing firm in Chicago. He served in the Army during world war II, landed in Normandy on D Day, fought in three major battles and received the Purple Heart medal.

Gottschalk first sought public office in 1956 when he was elected police magistrate of Park Forest, Ill. He is married and has three daughters.

London Exciting City, Says SIU-SW Teacher

"London today is probably the most exciting city in the world," according to James M. Haas, assistant professor of history at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Haas, who is participating in SIU-SW's European travel and study program next summer, will teach two history courses at Birkbeck college at the University of London, English Constitutional History and England in the Twentieth Century.

"This program," Haas said, "will provide a unique opportunity to study firsthand the history and culture of a country to which America owes more than to any other." One of the more unusual features of the program, he said, will be an opportunity to speak with representatives of the major British political parties, the Trades Union Congress, the Confederation of British Industries, and others.

The courses are open to any qualified student enrolled at SIU-SW. The classes will begin June 19 and continue for seven weeks, Haas said.

A University of Illinois Ph.D., Haas taught at the University of Dayton (O.) before joining the SIU faculty in the fall of 1961.

An opportunity to become a qualified scuba diver before the start of the 1968 summer season will be offered to area residents by the Granite City Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club through a nine-week course in skin and scuba diving, beginning Wednesday, Feb. 7, at the YMCA.

Richard Griffin, newly-elected Bubblemaster president, today announced that techniques in both skin and scuba diving will be taught by nationally certified YMCA and Mid-West Diving Council instructors in the series of lectures and pool work.

Nine sessions, each consisting of four hours, will be conducted on consecutive Wednesday evenings at the local "Y" during which individuals can gain insight and the practical skills needed to become qualified divers, Griffin said.

The entire course, based on National YMCA scuba training standards, is geared towards providing the novice diver with instruction in safe diving procedures, as well as the necessary skills, the club president noted.

All equipment, text books and incidental materials required in the course will be furnished by the local scuba club, Griffin stated, adding the number of students accepted for instruction will be limited.

In previous courses, a maximum of 16 beginners were enrolled. However, the number to be accepted in the new classes has not yet been determined. A minimum age limit is 16 years, with parental consent, and prospective students are required to be competent swimmers.

Interested persons may register at an orientation meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 31, at the YMCA. Additional information may be obtained by calling Griffin, after 5 p.m., at TR 7-0556, or instructor Jack Atkinson, at TR 7-5688.

Cost of the series is $12 per person to "Y" members, and $40 for non-members.

SIU-SW's String Quartet Holds Confabs, Then Plays

The classic image of a string quartet is of four distinguished gentlemen in tuxedos sitting in a semicircle solemnly playing a high-toned piece by Mozart. Put the Lincoln Quartet in a back room of the Communications Building at Southern Illinois University - Southern campus and you see formality peeled away, exposing affable, fun-loving people.

"We like to engage in trivialities and jovial conversation before practice," says John Kendall, professor of string music at SIU and first violinist of the ensemble. "It puts us in a proper frame of mind before we settle down to the rigorous demands of rehearsal."

These human qualities aren't on display to the public but they emerge in light moments and away from the music stands.

At home and among their friends the quartet are "average American guys" with interests and pursuits like other men heading families.

Other Hobbies

Joseph Pival, cellist, who lives in Edwardsville, has a woodworking shop in his basement where he creates items for the household such as cabinets and bookcases. During the summer he and his wife, Connie, enjoy fishing in Kentucky where Pival and some friends have leased a small lake. He has earned bachelor and Master's degrees in music from the University of Illinois.

Violinist Robert Schieber, newest member of the group, enjoys camping in the Smoky Mountains with his wife, Marilyn, and his two daughters. Whenever possible he likes to play golf and hike. A slider infantryman in Europe during the Second World War, Schieber ber received his master's in music from Indiana University and currently is working toward a doctorate at the University of Michigan. He and his family live in Edwardsville.

The other violinist, Kent Perry, likes to read during leisure moments, "reluctantly" tackles bridge with his wife, Linda, and enjoys traveling in the summer. Perry and his family live in Edwardsville. He currently is working toward a doctorate in music at the University of Illinois.

First violinist Kendall, one of the country's leading exponents of Shinichi Suzuki and his listen-and-play technique for teaching string instruments, is a carpenter at home. He and his oldest son, Stephen, who is an architectural student, have built a garage, utility room and workshop at home, near Edwardsville. He also builds wooden frames and stands for paintings and sculpture and ceramic works.

Kendall, who travels throughout the world advocating the Suzuki training, has a master's degree from Columbia University and studied toward a doctorate at the Universities of Iowa and Indiana.

Symphony Experience

Each of the quartet members has distinguished himself previously with high-level symphonic orchestras. Now they are concentrating on developing string music at the University and in surrounding communities.

3 SIU-SW Faculty Women In Who's Who

Three members of Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville campus faculty have been named to Who's Who Among American Women. They are Mrs. Wallace Altes of Collinsville, Marion Ansel Taylor of East Alton and Miss Dorothy Tullos of Edwardsville.

Mrs. Altes, a native of Toledo, O., is a research associate in Public Administration and Metropolitan Affairs and lecturer in the Social Sciences Division at SIU. She received her bachelor's degree from Miami University at Oxford, O., and her master's degree from the University of Chicago, where she has also completed the comprehensive for the doctor of philosophy degree.

Mrs. Taylor, professor of English language and literature, received her doctorate from the University of Iowa. Author of several books, plays and numerous short stories and popular articles, she has written extensively on Shakespeare for professional journals.

Miss Tullos, associate professor in the Fine Arts Division, has been at SIU since the fall of 1962. She holds two bachelor's degrees in fine arts, one in violin-cello, one in music education, and received her master of arts degree in music education from Columbia University. She earned her doctor of music arts degree at Boston University.

Vietnamese Educator To Be Trained at SIU

A Vietnamese educator with potential will be trained at Southern Illinois University to do bigger things in his country, possibly become a college president.

Leaving for Saigon around March 1 will be John E. King, SIU professor of higher education, who said Vietnam was chosen because "that's where the chips are down, and because of SIU's involvement there, it was felt this was the most important place we could go."

King will spend several weeks conferring with representatives of the U. S. Agency for International Development and members of the SIU team that has been training Vietnamese people to become elementary school teachers and augmenting the training of teachers since 1961, and more recently preparing educators to become normal school professors. The work is done under contract with AID.

Hester, Green Charter
To Operate Restaurant

A charter of incorporation has been issued by Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell to Charles Hester Enterprises, Inc., 1326 Niedringhaus avenue, authorizing Charles Hester and James Green to own, conduct, operate, maintain and carry on a general restaurant and retail liquor business in Granite City and at such other places determined by the corporation board.

The new firm also is empowered to buy, lease, acquire, own, hold, sell, let, improve or otherwise dispose of property of all kinds, real and personal, necessary or convenient to carrying on the business. The charter lists 100 shares of common stock with $1 par value. Correspondent is Attorney Lance Callis.

Mrs. Ada P. Cariss, 83, of 2418 Anchorage avenue, died at 8:45 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Belleville. Ill. 59 days, also having been a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital here and at an O'Fallon nursing home.

Born in Rushville, Ind., she resided in Granite City 47 years and previously lived in Canada. She was a member of Trinity Methodist Church and Royal Neighbors. Her husband, Fred Cariss, died in 1960.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Fred (Bernice) Strackeljah of Idaho Falls, Ida.; two sons, Fred Cariss of San Leandro, Calif., and Melvin Cariss of Sacramento, Calif.; and nine grandchildren. An obituary notice appears elsewhere in this issue.

Note on Voucher Causes Council Up roar

A notation on a voucher that the city engineering firm of Research Planning & Design was to reimburse the city from motor fuel tax allocations the amount of $747 for planning work on the Waterman avenue project erupted into a major dispute at Monday night's council session.

However, the matter was resolved—after the heated debate—merely by agreeing to strike the notation from the voucher. The council later in the meeting voted 11-to-2 (with Bartosiak passing) to renew the firm's contracts to serve as city consulting engineer and also motor fuel tax engineer.

Audit Could Cause Problem

Kieberger was present Monday night and said that, while the check from the city had been cashed, he felt the voucher notation should be explained by letter in the event of an audit in future years and the possible interpretation of the notation as an amount owed by the firm to the city.

The debate arose as Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, commented that it would be the mayor's task to clarify the matter since he had decided the Waterman avenue project should be an MFT undertaking and had vetoed the improvement project under general funds.

"You should also explain to the people that this will tie up the project for at least 10 years because of other MFT priorities," Johnson told the mayor. Partney replied that it is normal procedure for the engineer to submit MFT resolutions, and that such a resolution would be forwarded to the state highway department to get the $747 engineering fee from MFT. "In my mind," he added, "the Waterman project should be by MFT funds."

Defends Mayor

In defense of the mayor, Alderman Rutledge pointed out that without the mayor's veto of special improvement work designated by the council last summer, the city would show a big deficit next April. "We're pretty close to that right now, even with the veto," he added. Johnson said the engineer could not bring in an MFT resolution without council approval and such authority had not been given.

"If such a motion is made and approved, I will process the papers and bring them in,"

Kieberger told the council. Rutledge presented a motion for the notation to be removed from the voucher and for the MFT resolution to be prepared. The motion was approved.

Johnson Road Report

Alderman Johnson also called for a report on progress being made for the MFT improvement of Johnson road.

He was advised by Kieberger that if Johnson road from Franklin avenue east and around the curve to Pontoon road is to match the other section, a 60-foot right-of-way would be needed for a 44-foot roadway to permit parking.

An alternative would be a 36-foot roadway along which parking would be permitted by the state, the engineer explained, adding that a 60-foot right-of-way would be an added cost to the city.

Further meetings with the state highway department are being planned.

Peace Corps Worker To Address Coolidge PTA

Miss Sharon Reinhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reinhardt, 2805 Iowa street, who recently returned from a two-year Peace Corps assignment in the Philippine Islands, will address Coolidge PTA members and student guests at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

The local Peace Corps volunteer will be featured speaker, at the Coolidge PTA unit's bi-monthly meeting, slated to be held in the school's all-purpose room.

Plans for next week's meeting were discussed by PTA board members, who met in executive session earlier this week in the JHS library. Mrs. Thomas Thorne, president, conducted the board meeting. It was announced that members of the Coolidge student body, their friends and the general public are being invited to hear Miss Reinhardt describe her experiences while working on Mindanao.

Other topics discussed by the board, included possible refurbishing the Coolidge teachers' lounge. Also attending the planning session were Mrs. Abraham Tatosian, Mrs. Aaron Darakjian, Mrs. Roger Deltour and Raymond T. Jones, Coolidge principal.

REDISCOVER THAT GREAT INVENTION—THE SHOVEL

To the Editor:

Seems to me there are many primitive people in our snow-white city. Snow, they don't seem to know about or own a new weapon against snow, the snow shovel. They ought to get out and get the snow off the sidewalks.

During the last five years of my residency in this town I have observed, especially in the affluent neighborhoods and those near Wilson Park, a downright indifference to the plight of the walking child, mailman, domestic, delivery man or any individual who has to use two feet for transportation instead of covered Cadillacs and other modern conveyances.

Some people never walk, and die early. Some people always walk and may die early on the ice and snow rutted sidewalks of Granite City.

The pride of these property owners is very evident in summer-time. The lawns are cut, the shrubbery trim and pretty. But because of the unsought and unasked for snow, a gift of God, and because the property owners don't own the sidewalks, they are benumbed at the strange idea of going out or getting someone to clear the fluffy white mess away. And because they are indolence personified when it degenerates into potential bone-crushing vehicles for the poor pedestrian.

We don't want anyone to die on the sidewalk walking like a maniac. But with a little caution and an hour to spare, and with the help of a small bag of salt, some of the hazards of the homeless and the machineless could be obliterated.

Most of the housewives and husbands in GC (from my observations in Supermarkets) seem to practice strict control and this bit of work in winter shouldn't turn out a bit.

In this era of togetherness, humanism and communication with others, it benefits them to help their neighbor a little bit more instead of subconsciously siding in the breaking of his bones in inclement weather.

Don't wait for the snow to melt. Get your snow shovel and get out on the sidewalk. Your reward might be greater than you think.

Food Irradiation Passes Tests

(American Chemical Society)

A scientific development of the 1950s is now ready for use in the war on hunger, a U. S. Army chemist reports. Sterilization of food by irradiation has finally passed laboratory tests. It has been called "excellent" in its first large-scale feeding trial, and is now being evaluated in special test facilities, reports Dr. Edward S. Josephson, Associate Director for Food Radiation at the U. S. Army Natick Laboratories, Natick, Mass.

The final step, he says, is commercialization by industry. Irradiation can mean less starvation in the world, he says, food does not spoil as long as it is sterile. Dr. Josephson explains. It also means fewer food-shipping problems, since it lengthens storage life without refrigeration.

By helping to control disease organisms, it can encourage countries to remove quarantine barriers against livestock imports, thereby stimulating international trade.

Laboratory tests show that irradiation can delay the ripening of bananas and tomatoes; extend the shelf-life of clams, chicken and fresh-water fish; reduce the spoilage of grapes, strawberries, and nectarines; and sterilize pork, beef, hamburger, frankfurters, turkey and luncheon meats.

In the world's first large-scale production test of irradiated meat, U. S. Army and Air Force personnel ate 15 tons of corn, and judged it excellent, Dr. Josephson says. The U. S. Department of Agriculture began operating a pilot plant to treat wheat in Savannah, Ga., last year. A radiation facility has been built in Hawaii for processing tropical fruits and cereals, and a Department of the Interior plant in Massachusetts is engaged in preserving fish for consumption on island.

The two chief sources of the radiation used are radioactive cobalt and the electron linear accelerator. The cobalt unit produces highly penetrating gamma rays, while LINAC produces penetrating electrons. To insure that no radioactivity is produced in the food, that no dangerous organisms survive, and that nutrition is not adversely affected, the irradiated foods are fed to animals. They are then tested for cancer, longevity, fertility, and signs of illness. The results: irradiated foods have been found to be "safe and nutritionally adequate."

Today, the chief problem is to compile the amassed evidence and get final approval from the Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Josephson asserted.

In the next decade, health officials will require the irradiation of such products as poultry, eggs, pork, beef and shellfish to insure freedom from disease-producing organisms, he predicted.

1967 Work Stoppages Analyzed

(Bureau of Labor Statistics)

About one-third of the work time was lost because of strikes in 1967.

At 39, however, the ratio was higher than in any year since 1959—mainly because of the effect of a few large strikes and some long ones.

The number of stoppages beginning in 1967—4475—was only about 2% higher than the 1966 strikes. But in 1966, idleness was only .19 of 1% of all work time.

The difference is that there was a greater number of strikes of longer duration last year. BLS tabling 12 stoppages in 1967 involving 10,000 workers or more, accounting for half the total of 41 million man-days of idleness in 1967. This compares with 2.9 million workers struck in 1966. Three of these major stoppages involved more than 100,000 workers. One in Ford Motor Co., lasted more than two months.

Bigness is certainly not unusual. Isn't bigness also a common goal, for individuals, for organizations, for national policy? Can we put a man on the moon without bigness? Can we build the "Great Society" without bigness?

Despite the problems we have and the much publicized war on poverty, unemployment and disinvestment, it is not a fact that Americans have the highest standard of living in the world.

Freedom of Choice Not only do we have the highest standard of living in the world but we have the freedom of choice, the ability of our consumers to choose from alternatives that are greater than anywhere else in the world?

Stop to think, for example, what happened from the time we woke up this morning from the time the alarm clock went off to what we did to get ready to go to the office, from the time we had breakfast to how we got to a meeting.

Are we not the beneficiaries of a remarkable economic machine, a miracle of coordination, of planning, of development of resources, of capital investment, of many other things that give us, on a regular and routine basis, what many parts of the world would like to have on special occasions?

Community Making Headway Toward Four-Lane-Wide Traffic Arteries

The condemnation unit filed to aid in providing right-of-way for widening of Nameoki road between Granite City and Shell heralds progress on another phase of the long-range effort to convert major local arteries from two to four lanes.

Improvement of Nameoki road between St. Clair avenue and Pontoon road was finished last year, and similar work is under way now between St. Clair and Edwardsville roads, the latter also now four-lane.

The rural project on which the condemnation suit is based will connect the busy Nameoki-Pontoon-West Pontoon roads intersection with Chain of Rocks road and Interstate 270, both of which are linked farther west to Federal Aid Route 151 (the Great River Road).

As Route 151 itself progresses southward, reaching Niedringhaus avenue this year and farther points in 1969, we will be markedly due to the time when rapid and safe travel and through this community will be possible on a network of thoroughfares bracketing the Quad-Cities with a variety of convenient routes.

In the meantime, it will be important that adequate planning and action are carried out to provide satisfactory access streets along and between the new highways.

Persistent Effort in Tax Appeal

Some sort of award for persistence is due Burton Bernard, local attorney now in his 40th year, appeal of Mason county railroad tax and assessment reductions. He is representing local-level governmental agencies in the litigation.

The length of the case and the inability to win the point thus far may appear to indicate that it is a lost cause. But it will be recalled that similar persistence enabled him to reverse telephone rate and service revisions affecting the Quad-Cities a few years ago.

Big Business—Does It Harm Consumers through Drift to Monopoly?

By DR. NATHAN BAILY

Dean, American University

School of Business Administration

(First of three articles)

Is big business bad for the consumer?

Perhaps we should start by asking the question, "Why ask this question?" Isn't the United States the home of big business?

And not just big business, but big labor, big universities, big charities, big religious institutions?

It is found to be "safe and nutritionally adequate."

Today, the chief problem is to compile the amassed evidence and get final approval from the Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Josephson asserted.

In the next decade, health officials will require the irradiation of such products as poultry, eggs, pork, beef and shellfish to insure freedom from disease-producing organisms, he predicted.

Despite the problems we have and the much publicized war on poverty, unemployment and disinvestment, it is not a fact that Americans have the highest standard of living in the world.

Freedom of Choice Not only do we have the highest standard of living in the world but we have the freedom of choice, the ability of our consumers to choose from alternatives that are greater than anywhere else in the world?

Stop to think, for example, what happened from the time we woke up this morning from the time the alarm clock went off to what we did to get ready to go to the office, from the time we had breakfast to how we got to a meeting.

Are we not the beneficiaries of a remarkable economic machine, a miracle of coordination, of planning, of development of resources, of capital investment, of many other things that give us, on a regular and routine basis, what many parts of the world would like to have on special occasions?

However, despite our material achievements, our well-being, our affluence, our choices, we are disturbed and worried and one of the major areas of concern is implied in our question, "Is big business bad for the consumer?"

War-time Role

If we try to be logical and ask about big business and its role in our economy, we know how indispensable big business is in our economy. In World War II, and in the postwar recovery.

"The Allies floated to victory in a sea of American oil" might well be considered an example of history repeating itself.

The products of American big business, the guns, the tanks, the airplanes, the trucks, etc., enabled us to crush two superpowers as well as the Japanese war machine.

Logically again, we can admit the indispensable role of big business in peacetime in terms of its employment of manpower, use of capital, research and development, innovation and quality of product.

If we look at the goals of national policy, at the concept of economic growth and at the source of the revenues whereby President Johnson hopes to force this Great Society upon us, we see very clearly the indispensability of big business to our political, economic, social and cultural goals.

Funds for Research

Take, for example, any of the miracles of our consumer economy since World War II—and remember very clearly the industry, that the overwhelming majority of products being sold every day and taken for granted are products not known before that war.

We must ask from where the funds come for the research and development of these new products, for marketing them.

Another aspect of the economy that is rarely recognized is the small proportion of products successfully marketed.

Approximately one out of 25 products manufactured bring to consumers succeed, which presents a fascinating challenge to marketing men.

When 24 out of 25 are not successful, obviously from the viewpoint of the economy the 25th must pay the bill. Where do the funds come from to make 25 products when only one will be successful?

It is evident that if we evaluate on a logical basis, we can only conclude that big business is vital in terms of the large scale of operation needed to provide products at relatively low prices.

Big business is vital as a major tool for winning the cold war and enabling developing countries to rapidly advance.

Big business plays a big role in production, marketing, innovation and employment.

However, the attacks that seem to have been most influential come not from the economic but from the political and social arenas.

All you have to do is read much of what is published outside of the U.S. and, to a certain degree, what is still published inside the U.S.

Does big business really control the country? According to this argument, it controls government, schools and the press.

Big business has the political power to stop any legislation and congressmen and senators jump — they won't be re-elected if they don't get its support.

Some of the people connected with big business are probably the most frustrated when they read such claims. If only they had such powers, life would be much simpler and happier — for them.

What do we actually see when we read editorial sections or newspaper columns? If big business controls the press, it has strange ways of showing it.

If it really controls government, why hasn't it got rid of the Robinson-Patman Act a long time ago?

Federal Controls

Instead, it operates in this legal jungle where, basically, a business organization is condemned if it does something or if it doesn't do something and the press is to be blamed simultaneously, despite the agreement of the Federal Trade Commission and Justice Department to act in justice.

If you win in one area, you get caught by the other.

Another controlling factor is the universities, which is so much misinformation and prejudice against big business taught?

It is frustrating to these schools of business administration to see much of the money big business contributes going to the state of the universities, which is so much misinformation and prejudice against big business taught?

Unprecedented Level of Church Cooperation Being Achieved Here

Ecumenicity, a jaw-breaking word little known in theory or practice until a few years ago, is a condition in which church unity or cooperation flourishes.

Such an enlightened situation is a healthy development that we predict is here to stay in the Quad-Cities as well as most of the world.

Two current examples noted in this week's news are the election of a Roman Catholic priest as a 1968 officer of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association and the Optimist club speaking program presented jointly by Lutheran and Catholic pastors.

Their expressed hopes for "mutual understanding, love, charity and cooperation" are goals that could transform the world if followed by men of all faiths and all walks of life.

With identical prayers to be delivered in nearly all Quad-City churches this week-end, "Unity Week," Jan. 18-25 has a new and much deeper meaning this year.

Venice Group Completing Third Decade of Aid to the Crippled

The humanitarian work of the Venice Crippled Children's Organization has reached monumental proportions when calculated over the past three decades.

Now in its 30th year, the organization deserves wholesome public support in its yearly fund project climaxed by a mammoth dance, which is scheduled for this Saturday evening at American Legion Post 307.

In years in aiding those with birth defects, victims of polio and other illnesses, accident casualties, burn victims and handicapped youths has been substantial and effective.

Financial assistance of the Crippled Children's Organization, already totaling many tens of thousands of dollars, hopefully will have reached even greater proportions by the conclusion of this week's activities in Venice.

Education a Process That Never Ends

Enrollment of Butterfly McQueen, "Gone With the Wind" actress, as a student in sociology student adds luster to the SIU-SW campus.

Graduating third in her high school class of 89, Miss McQueen has been at Los Angeles and Queen's College and is expert in such fields as Spanish, French, guitar, piano and philosophy.

Her decision to attend SIU-SW after years of theater and community work is an honor to the local university.

Her reason for taking additional courses provides food for thought for other students. "I learned a lot from my mother. She died surrounded by books."

We are in receipt of a brochure on the 1967 Grenville Clark award, based on interpreting the international scene with respect to the achievement of World "Peace" through World Law.

We appreciate the information and are referring it to our farm, homemaking and garden columnists.

Building a Portfolio of Stocks

By THOMAS E. O'HARA

Chairman, National Association of Investment Clubs

Q. What investments for long-term gain would you suggest for a couple in their early 50s? We now hold some mutual fund investments, but an assortment of other shares.

A. In your age group, you have some 12 to 15 years before retirement. This is an important time to build a portfolio that will provide supplemental income when you do retire.

Since you don't need the money immediately, you should concentrate on the purchase of growth stocks. That is, stocks that are increasing sales and earnings per share faster than their competitors, and which can be bought at a reasonable price. These may not pay much in the way of dividends now, but they are likely to in the future.

Here is the type of portfolio you might build:

Trade Commission and Justice Department to act in justice.

If you win in one area, you get caught by the other.

Parente Named State Sesqui- Labor Planner

Donald Parente, secretary of the Tri-City Trades & Labor Council AFL-CIO and a Granite City fireman, has been commissioned as a member of the labor committee of 150 of the Illinois Sesquicentennial Commission by Gov. Kerner.

He received a certificate of commission from Donald W. Howarth, director, business and industrial relations for the Sesquicentennial Commission.

In a letter accompanying the certificate, Howard said, "The record of organized labor in the 150 years of Illinois statehood is unparalleled, and the future of the Illinois labor movement promises to be even more distinguished than its past."

"Recognizing this fact, the Illinois State Federation of Labor passed a resolution at its most recent convention to support the sesquicentennial celebration and commemorate labor's role in building a better statewide community over the years. The commission is grateful for the generous support of Illinois labor and wishes in turn to establish a special Sesquicentennial labor committee."

"Mindful of your many contributions to our vigorous labor movement, I am enclosing our Sesquicentennial labor certificate with the knowledge that your support for the labor committee will assure the success of the Sesquicentennial in this area."

pointments stated, "It is my firm belief that our First Bank team is the best in the area and one of the finest in the nation, and that they, along with our many devoted employees, will continue to furnish the people of the Quad-Cities with the best financial services available."

Directors Re-elected

At the annual stockholders' meeting on Tuesday, directors re-elected are H. R. Fischer, H. W. Kaseberg, P. H. Lichtenberger, S. E. Pershall, S. E. Pershall Jr., Walter W. Pershall, Carl A. Ranft, John W. Reese, Walter A. Reese, Otto H. Roman, John J. Stolte, Nicholas P. Veeder and Marion E. Wilson. Also elected to the board was Melvin C. Wilmsmeyer.

Stock represented in person at the meeting totaled 3477 shares, by proxy 37,684 shares, or a total of 61,661 shares of the 80,000 outstanding.

Stockholders present at the meeting were furnished with the annual report of operations and in reviewing the bank's activities for the past year, Chairman Fischer stated, "In 1967 we enjoyed the best year in the 66-year history of Your First Bank. Not only were gross and net operating earnings at a new high, but our year-end statement shows total assets of $46,234,494, an all time high and an increase of $4,797,284 over the Dec. 31, 1966, figures."

"This certainly indicates a wide acceptance of the services your bank offers its community, and we pledge to you that we will continue our efforts to continue and expand these services. During the year, we continued our aggressive loan policies, taking care of all worthy credit applications received by us. Our activities in this area are shown in detail on the copy of our annual report to our customers recently published in the Granite City Press-Record.

"We are proud of this report, a new innovation for banks in the metropolitan area, and have received many favorable comments on this. We are also very proud of our being able to help in the improvement of our community by buying the recent $150,000 issue of Granite City sewer revenue bonds, ours being the only bid received. While it is not the general policy of your bank to invest in bonds of this type, our faith in the citizens and in the future of Granite City and our decision to show our friends and neighbors, in a concrete way, that First Bank stands ready to help at all times, prompted us to deviate in this instance.

Dividend Increase

"In August of 1967 your board of directors increased the quarterly dividend from 45 cents to 50 cents per share effective with the September 15 dividend. At their October meeting, a stock dividend of 33 1/3% was declared. This was approved by the shareholders at a special meeting on Nov. 21. This is to be payable on Dec. 21 to stock of record on Dec. 15. It is anticipated that the 50 cent quarterly rate will be maintained on the increased number of shares outstanding.

"In July of 1967, we signed a contract with the National Cash Register Co. for the installation of a Series 315 computer. Your executive officers made a thorough study of various types of computers, and of the advantages and disadvantages of having our own equipment installed on our premises over renting time at a computer service center.

"Their decision, and I am completely in accord with this, was that it would be to our definite advantage to have our own equipment, which will enable us to transfer all of our

City to Study Need to Rent Hungarian Hall

The city of Granite City will study the possible need for renting a building in Lincoln Place — the Hungarian Hall at Spruce and St. Louis streets.

Alderman Nann told the council Monday night that John Kozar, an official of the organization owning the two-level structure, has offered it to the city for $1 a month rental, with the city to handle maintenance and repair costs.

The council's City Buildings committee, headed by Alderman Burrows, is to study the offer and determine possible uses for the building.

Nann and others suggested it could be used for fire and police group meetings, could be remodeled to replace the police pistol range and could be used by a youth organization being formed in West Granite. Mayor Partney indicated his support of the proposal.

In a wide variety of business Monday night, the council also—

Referred to the Light committee a communication from Illinois Power Co. recommending installation of eight additional 20,000 lumen lights along the south end of Nameoki road where 131 lights originally were proposed. With council approval about 78 of the lights will be placed on existing wooden poles and the remainder on concrete poles.

Called for immediate repairs to excavations across south Nameoki road made for the improvement and widening of a roadway this spring. Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, said the cuts are deep enough to damage autos.

Gave authority to Street Supt. Warfield to have street sweeper No. 2 overhauled at Miller's Garage at a cost of $450.

Approved an expense allowance of $346 for Police Patrolman William D. Harris to attend a state-sponsored training school at Western Illinois University from Feb. 4 to March 1. Half the amount will be reimbursed by the state.

State-Sponsored Meeting

Authorized Comptroller Stevens, Treasurer Rich and the council Finance committee to attend a state-sponsored municipal finance session to be at the Alton city hall at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 23. The meeting is one of a series being conducted throughout the state by the new Division of Local Governmental Affairs and Property Taxes of the state Department of Revenue.

Referred to Street Supt. Warfield a notice from East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. that permanent repairs to an excavation on Madison avenue at Niedringhaus avenue will be made as soon as weather permits.

A breach of contract suit against the city of Granite City is being planned by John Hildebrand, who was discharged Monday from his job as superintendent of the city's sewage treatment plant. The council voted Monday night for Robert Jackson to be temporary superintendent.

contains no stipulation that he must reside in Granite City.

He lives at 650 North 61st street, East St. Louis, where he has resided for the past seven years. "I had my youngest boy attending St. Joseph's Parochial school seventh grade here in Granite City, but I'm taking him out this week," Hildebrand said.

He has been employed by the city since April 1966, and his work at the treatment plant has been praised by Alderman Moerlen, chairman of the Pollution Plant committee.

Ordered to Move

A council order for the superintendent to move to Granite City within 30 days last October, and the mayor announced at the Jan 2 council meeting that he was terminating Hildebrand's contract for insubordination.

At the time the termination was discussed late in December, Moerlen was away on vacation. He told council members Monday night that Hildebrand already has several offers from cities in northern Illinois and from private industries.

During Monday night's council meeting, after Mayor Partney had named the assistant superintendent and named others to new posts at the treatment plant, Moerlen mentioned the possibility of a suit against the city since a 30-day notice had not been given to Hildebrand.

Promotions at Plant

The promotions at the treatment plant announced by Mayor Partney Monday night and confirmed by the council were Jackson, who lives at 3007 Buxton avenue, to step up to the job of temporary superintendent for six months at a salary of $675 a month; Ernest Hubbard, 2328 Iowa street, to be temporary assistant plant superintendent at a salary of $600 a month; James Pickett, 1838 Spruce street, to be maintenance man, replacing Jackson, at a salary of $600 a month, and Robert Byrne, 2312 St. Clair avenue, to be an operator at a salary of $545 a month. Byrne has been a temporary employee, and his appointment now is permanent.

The council voted down an amendment to the treatment plant salary ordinance that would have given Hildebrand the $25 monthly pay increase approved for workers at the plant, retroactive to their first year anniversary date.

The recommendation for the increase had been made by Moerlen, who said Monday night he believed the city contract with the superintendent entitled Hildebrand to a 3% fringe benefits given employees at the treatment plant.

Mayor Partney replied that he did not feel a salary increase could be considered a fringe benefit.

Praises Operation

Moerlen argued that Hildebrand had operated the plant at two-thirds the estimated budget and had removed 2½ times more sludge than had been estimated. "He's operated the plant economically and efficiently and is entitled to the benefits given any other employee there."

"His contract runs to April. This is a contract of the city and not an appointment of the mayor, and any action should be by the council and not the mayor," Hildebrand may be able to take legal action against the city," Moerlen added.

Arguing against the $25 increase were Basarich and Bartosiek. "He told us he would move here," Basarich remarked; while Bartosiek enquired if the superintendent would be forced to pay for repairs to a city vehicle which was damaged in an accident while being operated for personal use.

7-to-6 Vote
The vote on the increase for Hildebrand was 7-to-6, failing to get a sufficient approval. Voting for it were Dallas, Moerlen, Whitmer, Poulos, Rutledge, Fry and Jarrett. Opposed were Bartosiek, Basarich, Norn, Parmley, D. A. Jones and Johnson. Absent, due to illness, were Boyd, Green and Robertson.

Moerlen commented when Mayor Partney announced the new appointments, "I'm not happy, but I believe this is the best we can do." He added that the mayor had not discussed the matter in detail with him.

He added that he also was not happy with the department

Sewage Treatment Plant Ex-Superintendent Plans to Sue City

By Press-Record Staff Photographer

NEW STAFFERS at Granite City's sewage treatment plant at the Army Depot are Robert Jackson (left) temporary superintendent, and Ernest Hubbard, temporary assistant superintendent. They were appointed Monday night.

then the state Sanitary Water Board would be obligated to stand by the men named to the temporary superintendent and assistant superintendent posts.

Most Capable Man

The Treatment Plant committee chairman said he agreed that the appointments included the most capable man at the plant, but that Hildebrand had to do his job with much interference. He made the motion to concur in the appointments by the mayor.

Alderman Fry told Moerlen that the mayor had followed the instructions of the council in sending the letter to Hildebrand.

Nonn pointed out a resolution would have to be presented listing the new appointees and their rates of pay. Preparation of the ordinance was approved.

Council members also discussed the possibility of returning the new appointees to their former jobs. Moerlen pointed out the city was obligated by the treatment plant bond ordinance to hire a Class One operator as superintendent, but since it was unlikely such a person would be available, the present appointment would stand.

He said it would be necessary to advertise for an operator, and if one could not be located,

March of Dimes 'Mothers March' is set for Jan. 29

Local March of Dimes leaders today announced the annual "Mothers March" will take place on Monday evening, Jan. 29, with some outlying areas to be visited by volunteers during the afternoon of the preceding day.

Residents throughout Madison and Granite City are being asked to turn on their front porch lights the evening of Jan. 29 to aid the volunteer workers. These visiting the homes will present each family with a special informative kit, containing literature about birth defects, now the primary target of funds obtained in the annual campaign.

Chairmen Are Ready
Mrs. Bernadine Hagauer and Mrs. Julia Lancaster, co-chairmen of the Granite City March of Dimes drive, and Mrs. Julia Voloski and Mrs. Albert Mikolajuk, co-chairmen of the Madison campaign, announce plans well under way for the 1968 door-to-door fund-raising canvass, with most area captains already appointed.

Members of the Madison Junior Service Club once more have agreed to shoulder responsibility for collecting donations in the Madison area, Mrs. Voloski said today. The 24 club members will be augmented by volunteers, in most instances, from their own families, the chairman added.

The Granite City chairman report dividing the community into 54 separate areas for the drive, each under the direct supervision of a volunteer captain. The region encompasses neighborhoods extending from Arlington Heights in the east to the Chain of Rocks Subdivisions on the western edge.

"We have most of the areas covered," Mrs. Hagauer noted this week. She added, however, "any resident wishing to volunteer his or her services for the drive would be welcome."

Frosted Cakes Projects
The Granite City March of Dimes leader also announced that Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops again have contributed three large March of Dimes cakes to this year's campaign.

The two-tiered cakes, embellished with white icing and a red March of Dimes insignia, are displayed at the local Seibold bake shops and at Granite City Trust and Savings Bank. Patrons are invited to insert dimes and quarters into the icing, thereby providing additional "frothing" to the cakes and helping to augment contributions.

In a similar "Frosted Cake" project in Madison, Mrs. Voloski reports that Paul and Agnes Freeman of the Busy Bee Bakery Shop have decorated two giant-size cakes. One is located at the bake shop on Madison avenue, while the second may be found at the First National Bank in Madison.

Arrangements have been made for workers in Granite City, Stalling, Ponton Beach, Mitchell and Arlington Heights to turn in their collections, starting early Monday evening, Jan. 29, at the Granite City

Trust Bank, Mrs. Hagauer said. Madison volunteers may leave donations with drive officials at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh street and Lee avenue, beginning at 6 p.m. the same evening, Mrs. Voloski noted.

In conjunction with the local campaign, league bowlers at Tri Mo, Bowland and Granite City Army Depot lanes are being invited this week to participate in a "March of Dimes Bowling Tournament."

Cash awards will be made in both the men's and women's divisions, with entrants asked to contribute $1 to the fund-raising drive. Contest winners will be announced next week, Mrs. Emylee Alford and Mrs. Mary Pashoff, tournament co-chairmen, report.

Details of the Madison "March of Dimes Bowling Tournament," to be conducted Monday through Sunday at the Madison bowling lanes, may be found elsewhere in this issue.

Six Busch Children Seeking Lost Dog

The six children of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Busch, 25 Bermuda lane are appealing to the local residents for information concerning their pet dog who has been missing since Monday afternoon.

Their dog is a Beagle, black and brown, and is a ten month old female, and was wearing a red collar with identification tags and a small tan flea collar when last seen. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the pet is asked to call the Busch home at 877-3588.

Farm Employers Have Jan. 31 Tax Deadline

Jan. 31 is the deadline for employers of farm workers to file their 1967 Form 943, Employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees, and pay the Social Security taxes due, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue, announced today.

There is an exception for farm employers who made timely deposits of all social security taxes on wages paid in 1967. They have until Feb. 12 to file Form (with Forms 450 attached) for such taxes.

The tax applies to cash wages of $150 or more paid to each employee in 1967 or cash wages, regardless of amount, if the employee performs agricultural labor on 20 days or more during the year.

The rate of tax for 1967 is 4 1/2% for the employee plus a similar amount from the employer for a total of 8 1/2% of the first $8000 of taxable wages paid.

A "crew leader," a person who furnishes and pays workers to perform agricultural labor on his own behalf or for another, is treated as an employer under the law.

Form W-2, Wage and Tax
Statement, must be furnished each employee paid $600 or more during the year. However, employees paid less than $600
for any wages reportable on Form 943 must be given a statement for social security purposes. Although use of Form
W-2 is preferred, Form 55-14
can be used for this purpose.

More detailed information is available in IRS Circular A,
"Agricultural Employer's Social Security Tax Guide," which can be obtained without cost by writing the District Director of Internal Revenue, Springfield,
Ill. 62704.

Mail Deadline for State License Plates--Jan. 25

Less than five weeks now remain for Illinois motorists to display their 1968 license plates on their vehicles, Secretary of State Paul Powell warned today.

The deadline is midnight Thursday, Feb. 15, and merely having applied for the plates or carrying them inside the car will not constitute compliance with this ruling.

Powell advised owners planning to apply by mail to have their applications in his office by Feb. 1, and preferably by Jan. 25, in order to be assured of receiving the plates in time for the deadline.

Processing of applications and the fact that the plates are handled by the post office as third class mail may mean that two, and possibly three weeks may elapse between receipt of the applications and arrival of the plates at their destination.

Car owners who apply immediately can expect quicker delivery of their plates because their applications can be processed before the last minute rush of applications arrive.

Over the counter sale of licenses is being conducted here at the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank and First Granite City National Bank.

Former Resident Dies At Flint, Mich.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in Flint, Mich., for William Earl Teel, 59, a former Granite City resident, who died of complications following surgery at the Hurley Hospital in Flint.

A resident of the local community during the late 1800s, at which time he moved to Flint, Mr. Teel had been in ill-health for the past two years. He was hospitalized three weeks.

Prior to his illness, he was employed in General Motor's Buick plant at Flint. During his residency here, Mr. Teel was an employee of Nesco Co.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Teel; three sons, William, Brian and Bruce Teel, all of Flint; one sister, Mrs. Ette Carbaugh, 2712 Myrtle avenue; a brother, Amos Teel, of Orange Grove, Calif.; and five grandchildren. An aunt, Mrs. Ruth Adams, of Granite City, also survives.

Hartman Named Assistant Atty. For Granite City

The appointment of Harry E. Hartman, 3340 Redbud avenue, as assistant city attorney for Granite City was announced at Monday night's council session by Mayor Partney and was confirmed by the city council.

Hartman replaces Norman Kinder, who resigned in November from the $400-a-month post. Hartman presently is city attorney for Venice and Maryville, attorney for the Venice Park Board and is on the legal staff for the East Side Levee & Sanitary District.

His offices are at 2003 State street, Granite City.

New Agreement Pending On Courthouse Parking

Many county judges and officials may be ousted from reserved parking spaces in front of the county courthouse in Edwardsville under the insistence of the Edwardsville city council.

A new agreement is to be reached on Jan. 25 after State's Atty. Leo Scroggins and members of the county courthouse committee have a chance to determine how many spaces are essential to courthouse services.

The city wants the spaces available to shoppers in the downtown district. A non-metered municipal parking lot is available within two blocks of the courthouse but is seldom used.

8 Local Graduates in Defensive Driving Class

Eight Granite City women were the first of Madison county motorists who recently completed a defensive driving course designed by the National Safety Council for licensed drivers to help prevent highway accidents.

The eight-hour classroom course was presented over a two-day period at the Madison County Farm Bureau building in Edwardsville under the sponsorship of the bureau's Women's Committee and the Country Companies Insurance firm.

Participants from here included Mrs. Gerald Lux, Mrs. Robert Brave, Mrs. Edward Schlinger sr., Mrs. Harold Rapp, Mrs. Virgil Travis, Mrs. Robert Carroll, Mrs. Marshall McDonald and Mrs. Richard Johnson.

Instruction was provided by Pat Asper and James L. Williams, public relations-safety experts of Country Companies, and Sgt. H. J. Schwertfeger of the Illinois State Police Traffic Safety Section.

ASF Employees Credit Union Banquet Friday

The 12th annual dinner meeting of the ASF Granite City Employees Federal Credit Union will take place at 6:30 p.m. Friday at the Madison recreation center, Seventh street and Lee avenue. The group is composed of American Steel Foundry employees.

All members and their families have been invited. Reports are to be presented, and new officers will be elected. John Singer is president.

GC Council in Dispute over Snow Removal

Snow removal from Granite City streets the past weekend was both praised and criticized during Monday night's city council session.

The main critic was Sixth Ward Alderman Fry, who said the city streets were in deplorable condition on Saturday, while Sunday's concentration of work in the downtown district should have been on main thoroughfares.

At least seven other aldermen praised the round-the-clock operation of the street department, but Fry pointed out the street superintendent should have had his bigger crew start out on Saturday, rather than wait until Sunday.

"I heard there were just seven men who put in six hours on Saturday and 12 men who worked as much as 15½ hours on Sunday. He has 25 men and could have worked eight-hour shifts," Fry told the Press-Record.

Only One Scrapper

Alderman Johnson, chairman of the Street committee, pointed out the department has only one scraper, no snowplows. "I'm surprised at the criticism, since there was considerable work done by the department over the weekend, hampered by a lack of equipment. We can't afford to buy all that special equipment and then maybe just use it once every five years."

Also defending the street superintendent were Aldermen Nonn, Partney, Bartoskiak, Moerlen and Dallas. Moerlen said the state highway department in plowing through the snow along Edwardsville road, closed all the private driveways and threw snow on sidewalks that had been shoveled. Moerlen said he planned to write a letter of protest to the state highway department as a king consideration be given pedestrians.

Emergency Authority
Alderman Dawes said the city council should give authority to the mayor or street superintendent to hire private contracting firms to aid in snow removal in the event of an emergency, such as a 10-inch snow. No action was taken on his recommendation.

Fry continued that the city engineer should provide the street department with a map of suitable snow routes that should be cleared first.

Alderman Partney, also of the Sixth Ward, commented that he wanted to commend the street department for its methods and that he knew of no one in his ward having difficulties.

Bartoskiak added that he had driven through several sections of the city over the weekend and had no trouble. He asked Fry if he knew of any instances where persons were unable to get to work or were late for work Monday morning. Fry replied that he had heard of several.

Earlier in the three-hour council session, Johnson pointed out there has been difficulty in getting street men to work overtime, and that they complained over a delay in getting overtime pay. He asked Comptroller Stevens if the payments could be made earlier. Stevens replied that the overtime was put on the next payroll after he received the compilation from the street department. Payrolls require council approval.
